AMERICA WANTS BETTER PROOF

–FROGMAN–

Eden Is Still Mum

He Says Russian Relations Might Be Chilled

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden angrily refused Monday night to explain the mystery of Britain's missing frogman. He hinted that telling the secret might chill relations with Russia.

"In this business," Eden told parliament, his face grave and his voice deeply serious, "I do not rest only on the national interest.

"There is also a very important international interest."

The House of Commons was packed and hushed. Sir Winston Churchill, hunched in a front row seat, stared at his successor . . . Adm. Lord Mountbatten, first lord of the Admiralty clasped his knuckles in the gallery and hung over the rails.

'Beginning'

"I confess," said Eden, 'that what I care is that the outcome of our discussions with the Soviet leaders should, in truth, prove to be, as I have said—the beginning of the beginning."

In complete quiet, Eden went on:

"I intend to safeguard that possibility at all costs. I believe that that is the policy of the Soviet leaders and it is for that reason that I deplore this debate and will say no more."

His eyes flashed and he looked angrily at the Laborites who had unsuccessfully tried to bait him into explaining why naval Comdr. (Ret.) Lionel (Buster) Crabb, the frogman, was spotted near a Russian cruiser.

After that dramatic pause, Eden sat down amid a roar of "Hear! hear! hear! hear! . . ." from his Conservative backers.

'Missing'

The frogman is officially listed as "missing—presumed dead" in the cold waters of Portsmouth harbor while diving near the cruiser that last month brought Soviet Premier Nikolia Bulganin and party leader Nikita Khrushchev on a visit to Britain.

Eden earlier told the Soviets that he regrets the incident, but beyond saying that no minister of the government was responsible for it, he has kept silent.

Eden told Commons Monday "I have not one more word to say than I announced on Wednesday."

U.S. Linked

LONDON (AP) — A small, left-wing labor group reported rumors that the naval frogman who apparently lost his life spying on Russian warships was working for the United States.

"That's complete nonsense," said a spokesman for the American Embassy in London.

The National Administrative Council of the Independent Labor party, a splinter group of Socialists with no members in Parliament, passed a resolution saying it "noted with concern rumors that Comdr. Crabb, the frogman, was operating on behalf of American espionage groups."

NU Student Hurt When Load Slips

A University student, Kenneth D. McKellip of Curtis, suffered head injuries, a fractured shoulder blade and dislocated finger Monday when 150 pounds of paper he was loading slipped and fell onto him.

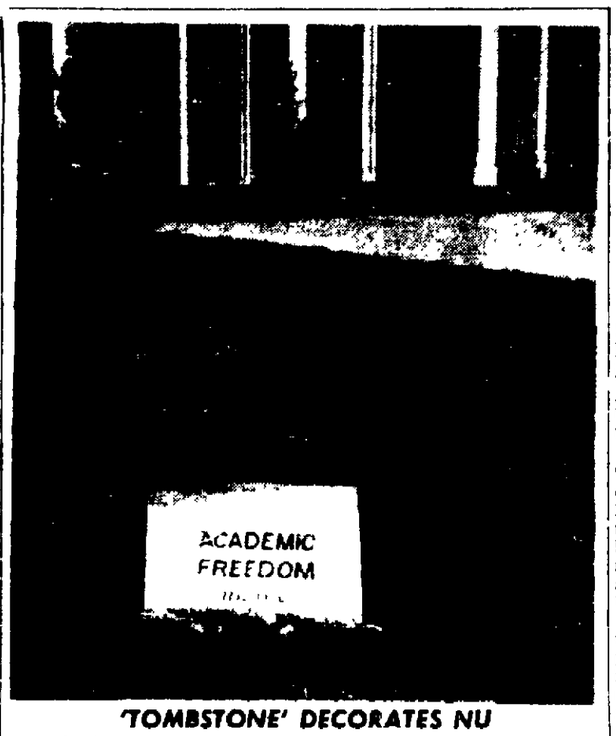
The accident occurred at the Western Newspaper Union building at 2005 Y.

McKellip was reported in "fairly good" condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Light Showers Possible In SW

A few light showers are possible in the southwest Tuesday, the Weather Bureau predicted, and partly cloudy skies will cover the rest of the state.

It will be mild with highs in the 65 to 70 range over Nebraska Tuesday after a day in which the state's high, at the Lincoln airport, was 70, and the low a chill 31 at North Platte and Chadron.



'TOMBSTONE' DECORATES NU

Early-risers at the University of Nebraska Monday were greeted by this "tombstone" on the lawn at the north entrance to Love Library. A two by three foot chunk of concrete, it said simply: "Academic Freedom, 1776 - 1956." Evidently placed there during the night, it was removed by mid-morning. The stone apparently referred to current controversy at the University over whether administrative actions had violated academic freedom. Charles Fowler, superintendent of University buildings and grounds, said the slab was picked up "as a routine matter" by groundskeepers.

Concern Expressed On Freedom Lack Charges

. . . NU Chancellor Makes Statement

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin of the University of Nebraska Monday night expressed "increasing concern" over stories in the NU student newspaper that "academic freedom is being violated by the administration" of the school.

In a statement addressed to students, faculty and officials, the chancellor said the University committees set up to receive complaints of academic freedom violations such as The Nebraskan alleges have received none.

Chancellor Hardin's complete statement said:

"I have been increasingly concerned by the series of reports printed in The Nebraskan which either state or imply that academic freedom is being violated by the administration.

"To question the judgment of administrative officers as they act to fulfill their responsibilities is one thing. To present charges that the administration either permits a infringement on academic freedom, or, worse, promotes such infringement, is quite another thing. Articles appearing in The Nebraskan's series during the past ten days, in my opinion at least, reflect a marked drift from the first area into the second.

'Especially Disturbed'

"I have been especially disturbed by the reports, such as that appearing in the issue of Friday, May 4, which at least imply that many members of the faculty believe the administration guilty of choking off a free expression of views on this campus.

"Under University rules, two standing committees elected by the University Senate are provided for the express purpose of receiving complaints which bear upon academic freedom and intra-institutional relationships. My grave concern over the repeated assertions regarding the administration's attitudes and actions prompted me to consult with the members of both of these committees: the Committee on Academic Privilege and the Liaison Committee.

"The purpose of my inquiry was to learn whether either of these faculty agencies, or any of their members, had received complaints of a nature similar to those reported as widespread by The Nebraskan. Neither committee nor any member had received any such complaint.

'Quasi-Judicial'

"By virtue of their quasi-judicial complexion neither of these committees is in a position to act until charges are placed before it. It is the clear and solemn duty of any faculty member who has reason to feel that his academic freedom has been impinged upon to place his complaint and such evidence as he believes supports it, before one of these committees. Without such action the University's remedial machinery stands idle while the institution, as well as its administration, is flayed with rumors and innuendoes.

"I wish to emphasize here the depth of my feeling on what appears to be the current point at issue in the recent efforts of The Nebraskan, namely, the protection of academic freedom.

'Without Interference'

"While the administration has the right and the obligation to dele-

Moscow Says Industry Is To Get Manpower

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced Monday night it would cut its armed forces within a year by 1,200,000 men and use the manpower in industry and agriculture.

A government statement said "other governments such as those of the United States, Britain and France wishing to contribute to the strengthening of peace, cannot but follow this example." It made no reference to armed forces slashes by Western powers since World War II.

The U.S.S.R. also reported it would disband three air divisions, put 375 ships of the Soviet navy into mothballs and disband a number of military training schools. It also said it would reduce its military budget, but gave no figure.

Read To Newsmen

The statement, read to correspondents at a Foreign Ministry news conference, said:

"By undertaking these new reductions the Soviet government is striving to contribute to the practical carrying out of the disarmament program now under consideration in the United Nations."

The armed forces cut, to be in effect by May 1, 1957, involved 63 army divisions and three air divisions, including more than 30,000 men now stationed in Communist East Germany, and did not include the 640,000 the U.S.S.R. reported demobilized last year, the statement said.

The slash was announced on the even of French Premier Guy Mollet's arrival in Moscow, and probably will be discussed with him during his four-day visit. Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev hinted last week to a group of visiting French Socialists that some such announcement was about to be made.

Total Not Disclosed

Leonid F. Ilyichev, the Foreign Ministry press chief, said he did not known how many men would be left in the Soviet armed forces after the cut is completed, nor would he say how much of a percentage cut would be made in the military budget. He said the reduction would not show up until the 1947 budget. There was no information, either, on what type of ships would be put in mothballs or on how much sea power would remain.

The long statement contended the program "shows very well that the Soviet Union is sincere and constant champion of peace and a sincere and constant champion of relaxation of international tension."

"The Soviet government would be ready to consider the question of a further reduction in case the United States, Britain and France carry out a proportionate reduction in their armed forces and armament," the Kremlin said.

"The Soviet Union believes that carrying out such measures would be a way of achieving disarmament and would establish real premises for the prohibition of atomic and nuclear weapons.

The Soviet statement on armed forces reduction brings Moscow double benefits.

Washington Still Looks For 'Deeds, Not Words'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's announcement that it would reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men within a year didn't cut much ice in Washington Monday.

A White House spokesman said the move would have more significance if the Soviets had been more cooperative at the London disarmament conference, which ended in disagreement 10 days ago.

The unofficial State Department reaction was that Russia appeared to be merely switching from military to economic methods of seeking world domination (the Kremlin announcement said the manpower drawn out of the armed forces would be diverted to industry and agriculture).

Very Cautious.

State Department officials were extremely cautious about accepting the announced Communist plans as concrete evidence of good faith—the "deeds, not words" that President Eisenhower has often called for.

Anticipating some "dramatic" announcement by the Russians about reducing their military forces, Secretary of Defense Wilson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee this morning that it sounded to him at that point as something "no different to our own so-called 'new look'," except that it is coming three years later.

The Eisenhower administration's "new look" program for U. S. armed forces was based on a reduction in Army manpower and a greater reliance on the Air Force and modern atomic weapons.

Wilson told the Senate committee there was no evidence that the Russians have "eased up" on their military development. He spoke before the Moscow announcement, but he still had in mind the possibility of a Red manpower reduction.

There was no further Pentagon comment.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, commented:

"The statement would have more significance if the Russian delegation at the disarmament conference had been more willing to accept the disarmament proposals made there, particularly the President's suggestion of aerial inspection."

He referred to Eisenhower's proposal that the United States and Russia agree to mutual aerial inspection of military installations in the two countries. Russia has balked at this method of insuring compliance with disarmament agreements.

The Kremlin announcement came as no surprise here. Both Secretary of State Dulles and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament aid, said last week it could be expected.

Officials here said Soviet cutback, if carried through, would bring no responsive reduction in American military manpower.

There are still more than four million men under arms in Russia, according to the latest U.S. estimates. As of March 31, the United States had 2,849,695 in its armed forces.

Nautilus Comes To N.Y.

Vast Anti-Atom Sub Program Is Studied

Biggest Threat Is Power To Fire Missiles While Submerged

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy's anti-submarine warfare branch said Monday that a vast program is under way to counter the lethal attack capabilities of atomic-powered submersibles such as the USS Nautilus.

One of the biggest threats presented by the prospect of such vessels in the hands of an enemy, according to Capt. D. E. MacIntosh, is their probable ability to fire accurately, while completely submerged, guided missiles that could strike far inland targets.

"Our advantage," Macintosh said in an interview, "is that we have the Nautilus, so we know what the problem is. With the difficulties before us, we believe we can solve them."

The question of defense against atom subs was raised by a demonstration cruise during which newsmen were shown the power and speed with which the Nautilus can maneuver at great depths. Its precise speed is secret, but substantially more than doubles the maximums for World War II subs.

Rear Adm. Frank T. Watkins, submarine commander for the Atlantic Fleet who took part in the demonstration off New York, said the Nautilus "almost completely defeats" present anti-sub weapons.

Watkins said the Navy has no exact intelligence on whether Russia is building nuclear submersibles, but assumes that the Soviets are working intensively on this development.

Macintosh, who heads the Anti-Submarine Branch of the Undersea Warfare Division, pointed out that it is no secret that rocket missiles with great ranges can be fired from beneath the surface.

He said underwater navigation, which would be the basis for aiming such missiles, is constantly improving and is now almost as accurate as navigation on the surface.

Although "ASW" is one of a most secret branches of Navy operation, Macintosh said these general lines of attack on the submarine problem can be laid down:

1. The first principle is "attack at source"—destruction of enemy submarines in shipyards and at bases and outfitting ports.

2. It may take atomic subs to beat atomic subs. Macintosh said that because of Russia's undersea strength, all U. S. submarines now consider that "their primary mission is anti-submarine warfare."

3. By using submarines spaced 20 to 30 miles apart, the U.S. could establish an underwarter listening and warning line that would ring the continent and be approximately as effective as any surface radar line. In addition, the listening subs would be capable of destroying any undersea prowlers they found.

House Boosts Farm Funds

Nearly $2 Billion OKd To Sagging Farm Money

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House voted Monday to channel an all-time record $1,983,512,568 into America's sagging farm economy.

The biggest agricultural appropriation bill in history was approved by a voice vote and sent to the Senate.

The measure did not provide funds for the proposed $1,200,000,000 soil bank and other special farm aid programs included in legislation already approved by the House and now pending before the Senate.

However, the huge money bill contained more than 783 million dollars to carry out existing farm programs.

CCC Funds

In addition, more than $1,200,000,000 was written into the bill to reimburse the Commodity Credit Corporation for losses in fiscal 1956 on the price support and surplus programs and on the eradication of livestock diseases.

The Agricultural Department can begin spending the nearly two billion dollars when the 1957 fiscal year begins July 1.

Among the continuing programs to be financed by the measure in 1957 are rural electrification and farmers Home Administration credit system, at a cost of $350,300,000.

The bill also provides funds for the extension service, for soil conservation, for agricultural research, for the foreign agricultural service, and various other farm programs.

The Democrat-controlled Appropriations Committee, which wrote the measure, noted that it was $5,800,000 below the amount requested by President Eisenhower.

'Recognized'

The committee said that after three years of trying to cut the farm budget, the Eisenhower administration had at last "recognized the serious situation facing American farm agriculture."

Last year, Congress voted $798,848,330 for existing programs and only about 186 million dollars for price support loan authorizations and commosity credit expenses.

The CCC price support loans have helped sustain the farmer during four years of declining income.

Only about 30 congressmen were on the floor when the important election-year measure passed.

State Primary Might Set Low Record For Peacetime Vote

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

Nebraska voters, in numbers that may set a modern day peacetime low, will mark ballots Tuesday in a primary election expected to provide default presidential preference victories for President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn).

Secretary of State Frank Marsh predicted a turnout of 250,000. Not since 1928—except for the war year of 1944—has a primary vote total in a presidential year dropped below the quarter million mark in the state.

Party leaders, noting the absence of campaign fireworks and a dearth of major attention-grabbing contests, have concurred in predicting a light vote.

President Eisenhower is unopposed on the Republican presidential preference ballot, as is Tennessee Sen. Kefauver on the Democratic ticket.

Write-in votes are permitted but no organized efforts to encourage them as been sighted.

Nebraska's is the only primary scheduled Tuesday and the preference balloting will be watched for any signs of a rural revolt against administration farm policies. This could, if it exists, show up in an unexpectedly large and pointed write-in vote, or a marked deviation from the approximate two-to-one predominance of Republican votes over Democratic votes in recent primaries.

But even Sen. Kefauver's Nebraska manager, Lincoln Attorney Frank Morrison, said he looks for no such display of agricultural discontent.

The privilege of crossing party lines at the primary belongs to only about three-fifths of Nebraska voters. In the 13 cities of 7,000 or more, voters must register in advance and stick to the ballot of their own party.

Not Binding

The presidential preference outcome is not binding on the 28 Republican and 12 Democratic national convention delegates also to be chosen Tuesday. Delegate candidates run unpledged but nearly all GOP contenders have expressed a preference for Eisenhower, and Sen. Kefauver is a front-running choice of Democratic candidates.

Of 50 candidates for the 18 Republican posts, 45 have said they favor Eisenhower. Two said they will support the primary winner, two said they prefer to be labelled as "uncommitted" and only one, former State Sen. and U. S. Rep. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, has said he believes the President should not run again.

Carpenter said he believes a second term will bring the death of Mr. Eisenhower and "I don't propose to be party to that kind of political expediency."

Of the 24 Democratic delegate candidates, 12 prefer Kefauver, two say they'll give first-ballot support to the primary winner, nine have voiced no preference and only one has indicated a preference for Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic standard bearer.

Besides marking presidential preference ballots and selecting convention delegates, voters also will name party candidates for four congressional seats, all elective state offices from governor on down, and a host of lesser offices from the county level on up.

In Nebraska, every major elective office is held by Republicans, and the GOP nomination has been tantamount to election for the past 16 years.

Gov. Victor Anderson and Reps. A. L. Miller and Phil Weaver have token opposition but Rep. R D. Harrison of the Third Congressional District is being challenged sharply.

Rep. Harrison, member of the House Agriculture Committee and a backer of Agriculture Secretary Benson, is opposed by Merle Haynes, former mayor of South Sioux City, Neb.; State Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora, and E. A. Carlson, a Hordville farmer-stockman.

Democratic Third District Congressional candidates are Lawrence Brock, former state Democratic chairman; Ernest M. Luther, the 1954 nominee, and Jesse F. Tepner, runner-up in the 1954 primary.

Five Republicans and five Democrats seek nomination to the second Congressional District (Omaha) post held now by Rep. Jackson B. Chase, the only major Republican incumbent at either the state or Congressional level not back on the ballot this year.

Republicans seeking nomination to Rep. Chase's office are Paul S. Kruger, a political associate of the late Sen. Hugh Butler; Tom P. Epsen, Omaha businessman; William H. Thomas, Omaha attorney; Omaha City Commissioner Warren Swigart and former Omaha Mayor Glenn Cunningham.

Democrats are Mabel Gillespie, a former state legislator; Philip A. Allen, TV news commentator; J. Emmet McArdle, retired farmer; Clayton Shrout, former Democratic state chairman, and Joseph V. Beneach, former legislator.

Polls To Be Open 8 AM-8 PM

Polls will be open today from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

An estimated 20,000 to 23,000 Lancaster County voters are expected to cast ballots, according to Election Commissioner Harold Gillett.

In Lancaster County the Republican ticket carries the names of 70 candidates. The Democrats have 36 candidates for office. Both figures include candidates for delegate to the national conventions.

The non-political ballot carries 28 names of candidates.

Voters registered as either Republican or Democratic will receive ballots for the party for which they are registered in addition to the non-political ballot. Voters registered non-political will receive only that ballot.

U.S. Has Air Power Lead, Wilson Says

AMERICA CAN HOLD POSITION

. . . Senators Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson, in a new pronouncement on air power, said Monday the United States has a superiority over Russia and he thinks it can be held.

The same opinion came from Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "I believe we can stay ahead of them."

Their statements, more confident in tone than some recent testimony by U. S. air generals, may be some reflection of what President Eisenhower had in mind when he informed his news conference May 4 that the country would feel a lot better about its air power position when the full story was presented.

Russia Announces Cut

Both Wilson and Radford testified before Washington had heard the news of Russia's intention to slash her armed forces by 1,200,000 men. The Kremlin announcement came several hours later. It said three Red air divisions would be among those disbanded.

Concern has been mounting in Congress that the Soviet Union was outstripping the United States in the struggle for sky mastery. Several Pentagon chiefs have said recently that Russia was "closing the gap" in some phases of air power.

The defense chief said the question "is always complicated" by measuring air power in numbers of planes. The comparison should be made in terms of quality and combat readiness, he said.

U. S. Ahead Now

Then he reported that the United States is ahead now, and the main question seems to be whether that will be true in 1960 at the current rate of buildup here and in the Soviet Union.

"We have superiority now," Wilson declared.

"Inside the family circle, we think we can maintain that, but not a great big superiority."

No Wednesday Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will not hold his usual Wednesday morning news conference this week but may meet with reporters Friday. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the usual Friday Cabinet session has been switched to Wednesday because several members of the Cabinet will be in Hot Springs, Va., Friday to attend a meeting of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Committee.

Stocks Skid After Moscow News

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices dropped sharply and the high-speed ticker tape lagged behind transactions briefly Monday as news came that the Soviet Union was slashing its armed forces.

Losses ran to around $1 to $5 a share on some leading issues The total quoted value of all listed stocks on the New York Stock Exchange declined $2,500,000,000 based on The Associated Press average

But the market was already on its way down when the news came and some Wall Street observers said the technical position was weak anyway.

"If it wasn't that, it would have been something else," said Gerald M. Loeb, partner in the Wall Street firm of E F. Hutton & Co. He and other observers noted that the market has been "heavy" —that is, trending downward—for days, and especially since the latest news of cutbacks in auto production

The Associated Press 60 stock average dropped $2 20 to $183 70, one of the steepest dips this year, but less than the $2 50 lost last Thursday when General Motors announced it would close its assembly plants for a day

Volume speeded up on the decline and the total turnover amounted to 2,440,000 shares compared with 2,450,000 Friday.

"On this campus our aim is not merely to tolerate the expression of divergent opinions. Our aim is, and should be, to welcome them. The free exchange of ideas is essential to the good health of this or any other university. Never, in my opinion, are the best interests of a university served by the violation of academic freedom. If there is anyplace within our society where conflicting ideas and opinions must be expressed, it is on our university campuses. The only limitations—if limitations they be—are those already expressed in our own University policy: the 'responsibilities of citizenship' and 'the precepts of scholarship and faithful performance of other academic responsibilities.'"

Man Slays 2 Women, Self, 1 Hurt

. . . Carries Out Threat

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (INS)— A 33-year-old man whose brooding exploded into an orgy of murder shot his estranged wife and another woman to death Monday, critically wounded another man and then killed himself

Bursting into a small home in the quiet San Fernando Valley town of Canoga Park in a frenzy, Regis C. Johnston carried out with a blazing pistol a threat he had made two months ago when his wife ordered him out of the house.

His victims were the wife, Mrs. Virginia Jean Johnston, 31, and her friend, Mrs Bess Mungall, a 35-year-old housewife.

Mrs. Mungall's husband, John, 40, was critically wounded in the wild shooting spree.

Police said Johnston, an aircraft worker had brought his wife and three children here from Pittsburgh, Pa., three months ago to make a new life in California.

Ex-Con Pleads Innocent In Dixie Robbery Kidnap

ORLANDO, Fla. (INS)—Thirty-four-year-old Frazier Peterson of Holyoke, Mass., pleaded not guilty Monday to kidnap and armed robbery charges in Orange County Criminal Court in Orlando, Fla.

Peterson, an ex-convict and morals offender, was charged with kidnaping and armed robbery in warrants signed by Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, 18, and her husband, Air Force sergeant Wayne Johnson.

Peterson was captured Saturday after he kidnaped Mrs Johnson from her Orlando home Friday night and forced her to accompany him on a forced, seven-hour ride through dense bush country.

He was finally apprehended by a posse, which found Peterson hiding in a palmetto thicket holding a knife at the throat of the young housewife.

Mrs. Johnson said Peterson, who finished 13 years of an 18-20 years prison term in Massachusetts only last March for criminally attacking two girls in 1943, knocked her down in her apartment but did not criminally attack her.

Niagara Mishap Kills 2 Engineers

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Two chemical engineers trying to ferry food to the strikebound plant of E I du Pont de Nemours Co. were drowned Monday when their small motor boat capsized in the Niagara River.

The company identified them as George Wise Jr., 33, of Tonawanda and Allan N. Brown, 31, of Niagara Falls. A spokesman said they were members of the nonstriking supervisory force.

Approximately 1,800 members of an independent union struck the plant here in a dispute over contract details.

Witnesses on shore said Wise and Brown struggled briefly in the water, about a mile and a half above Niagara Falls, then disappeared.

Company officials said nonstriking employes were trying to keep "critical operations" going at the river-front plant in order to "protect equipment and preserve jobs for as many employes as possible"

The plant manufactures sodium compounds and other chemicals.

L. E. Hassenplug Dies On Tractor Of Heart Attack

Lawrence E. Hassenplug, 62, of 3435 Q was found dead of a heart attack beside his tractor where he was working at Wyuka Cemetery near the R St. entrance.

Loan OKd For Distribution Of Atomic Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic energy soon will become available for generating electric power for rural consumers.

Administrator Ancher Nelsen of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) Monday approved a loan to the Rural Cooperative Power Assn. of Elk River, Minn., for building facilities for distribution of power made by atomic energy. The AEC is to build the atomic furnace for the power.

Two other public power groups are negotiating for the same kind of power. They are the Consumers Public Power District of Columbus, Neb., and the Wolverine Electric Cooperative of Grand Rapids, Mich.

(Consumers is negotiating with the Atomic Energy Commission for permission to construct an atomic plant estimated to cost about $25,000,000.)

Variety Honors Mrs. Earl Warren

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Variety Club of Washington honored Mrs. Earl Warren, wife of the chief justice of the United States, as its "Mother of the Year."

Nearly 400 persons attended a luncheon given by the club, composed of people connected with show business, in honor of Mrs. Warren.

The club customarily names as its "Mother of the Year" a woman who is in the public eye. The selection last year was Mrs. Richard Nixon, the wife of the vice president.

Red Novelist Fadeyev, 55, Kills Himself

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party announced Monday that Alexander Fadeyev, 55, one of Russia's most famous writers, has committed suicide. He was an old Bolshevik of the Revolution.

The announcement, distributed by Tass, said the novelist had killed himself in a "fit of spiritual depression as a result of chronic alcoholism."

It was the first suicide of a noted writer announced here since the poet Vladimir Mayakovsky killed himself in 1930.

Fadeyev was an ardent Bolshevik at the time of the Russian Revolution. The son of a medical orderly, he began his revolutionary career when he was only 17.

He helped organize the Soviet Writers' Union. In addition to his writing activities, he was an alternate member of the Communist party's Central Committee and a member of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament.

Adlai Hears Tight Credit Is Tough Oregon Problem

SALEM, Ore. (INS) — Adlai Stevenson, campaigning for votes at the Oregon presidential primary, was told Monday that tight credit and high interest rates are the toughest single problem for western Oregon farmers.

The Democratic candidate is in a four-day campaign swing through Oregon, seeking write-in votes in opposition to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) at the Friday primary.

Oregon leaders of the Farm Bureau, Grange and Farmers' Union said a yearly shortage of railroad cars and a shortage of available electricity also hamper farmers in the region

Harley Libby, president of the State Farmers' Union, said that interest rates as high as 7 per cent have been common in Oregon this year. In parts of Idaho, he said, the rate for re-financing commercial loans has been as high as 8 per cent.

The highlight of the primary campaign in Oregon will come Tuesday night when Stevenson and Kefauver will speak from the same platform at Eugene. Kefauver will campaign in the state Tuesday and Wednesday.

Harriman Says He'll Make Bid

CODY, Wyo. (INS) — Gov. Averell Harriman of New York Monday dropped his status as an "inactive" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and announced he will make a bid to become the party's standardbearer.

Harriman said at Cody, Wyo, that he will be entered as a candidate for the presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention which starts Aug. 13 in Chicago.

The governor, who had called himself an "inactive" candidate for several months, told the Wyoming Democratic convention he would be "mighty proud" if the state's delegation supports him at the conclave

He said he had been informed by the New York state Democratic committee that it would enter his name at the convention "not as a favorite son, but as a candidate."

In a speech at the convention Harriman declared President Eisenhower "must be held directly and personally responsible for the failure of his administration." He charged that the chief executive has "tried to dodge responsibility and passed the buck to his subordinates."

Gas Line Explosion Kills 2, Injures 4

SALT LAKE CITY (INS)—Two men were killed and four critically injured Monday when a natural gas line exploded near the University of Utah.

Fire department officials said a mechanical ditch-digger was being used in construction of a new gas line when it apparently tore into the old fuel line.

The explosion and resulting fire filled the trench with flames

Two men were trapped in the ditch and burned to death and four others pulled from the trench suffering serious burns and injuries

A spokesman at Holy Cross Hospital said the injured were in critical condition.

K.C. Federal Bank Sees More Good Business In Area

KANSAS CITY (INS) — The Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City foresees continued good business in the Tenth District which includes Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, most of Oklahoma, western Missouri, and northern New Mexico.

The May monthly review of the bank says loans to businesses by member banks climbed from 20 million dollars in 1945 to almost 1 2-billion last year, an increase of nearly 300 per cent. The article indicates that district banks have extended credit facilities into new markets and have encouraged development of small as well as large businesses.

Plant and equipment expansion by industry and replacement of fixed capital deferred during the war, together with the need for increased working capital, were responsible for most of the expanded business credit requirements.

Retailers, the largest borrowing group in the survey, constituted only 15 per cent of the loan volume. They borrowed 183-million but the average loan was only $8,000.

Powell Denies He Got Any Kickback

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) denied in federal court Monday ever having received a kickback of money from his congressional secretary, Mrs. Hattie Freeman Dodson.

He appeared as a surprise witness at Mrs. Dodson's trial on income tax evasion charges. Judge Irving R Kaufman previously had refused a defense motion to dismiss the charges but cleared her husband, Howard.

"Unqualifiedly no, never, not a penny," Powell said in reply to a question on whether he ever got a kickback.

Mrs. Dodson is accused of evading $5,000 in taxes and getting $2,000 in refunds for 1948 to 1952 by listing dependents fraudulently.

The Dodsons and Powell are Negroes.

Adlai Accuses Ike Administration Of 'Paralysis' On Farm Issue

. . . Renews Criticism Of Nixon

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson Monday night accused the Eisenhower administration of "paralysis" on the farm problem and renewed criticism of Vice President Nixon.

In a speech prepared for delivery here he said Secretary of Agriculture Benson has tried to turn the American consumer against the farmer, "then in the next breath, he tries to blame the farmers' troubles on organized labor."

"This sort of divisive tactic has no place in the cabinet of an American president," he said.

Stevenson went on to say the Republicans find themselves "entangled in the increasingly embarrassing embrace of Richard Nixon.

'Not Good'

"Many thoughful Republicans share our conviction that what Mr. Nixon does best is not good for the country and does not qualify him for the second highest office in the land, in spite of President Eisenhower's admiration for him.

"And I would not be surprised if they will have found means of extricating themselves from his embrace."

Stevenson, engaged in a write-in contest with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for Oregon's 16 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, conferred with farm groups in Salem and spoke at Woodburn, Salem and Lebanon earlier.

Final Swing

He had a day's start on Kefauver, who will open a final swing through Oregon Tuesday. Kefauver will make 18 stops in a two-day campaign. Stevenson will speak at 10 cities before he leaves Oregon Wednesday. The Oregon primary is Friday.

For the first time in the campaign, Kefauver and Stevenson are scheduled to appear on the same platform together Tuesday night.

That will be at Eugene at the head of the 125-mile long Willamette Valley. The rivals had scheduled separate rallies there, but a joint meeting was arranged when it was noted both would be in town at the same time. The rally will be in the University of Oregon's basketball court.

'Half Screenees'

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)— Sen. Estes Kefauver said Monday he opposes government security programs that would make the United States a nation of "half screenees and half screenors."

In a campaign talk at the University of California's West Gate, the Tennessean was applauded warmly by a crowd police estimated at more than 3,000. The crowd about matched that attracted by Adlai Stevenson a week ago.

Kefauver and Stevenson are contending for California's 68 Democratic National Convention votes in the June 5 presidential primary.

Kefauver said he voted against security legislation sponsored by Vice President Nixon when Nixon was a senator. It went beyond the nation's actual security requirements, he said.

The senator said he knew young people whose government careers had been ruined by "faceless accusers."

28 Delegates

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming Democrats Monday elected 28 delegates who will have 14 votes at the Democratic National Convention. Eleven of the delegates—with 5½ votes—said they favor Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for the party's presidential nomination.

Eleven other delegates said they were undecided. Four said they favor Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, one was for Adlai Stevenson and one for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

The convention did not instruct the delegation. Each delegate has half a vote.

Ike Support

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Wyoming's delegation to the Republican National Convention gave full endorsement to the Eisenhower - Nixon ticket shortly after it was elected by the State GOP Convention Monday.

The 12 delegates expressed unanimous support of the renomination of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon at a meeting following their selection.

The meeting was held at South Street Temple with Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger as host.

Seven Fined For Contributing To Delinquency Of 4 Children

Seven adults, including the parents, were fined $25 to $100 Monday in Lancaster County Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency and dependency of four small children.

All were found guilty by Judge Herbert A. Ronin following a three-hour trial, but "with varying degrees of guilt." All seven gave notice of appeal.

Summarizing the case, Judge Ronin said state testimony and pictures showed "excessive drinking in the over-crowded three - room house ... unsanitary conditions ... and the children, themselves, in a neglected and unclean condition."

Policewoman Hulda Roper, who investigated the April 15 incident at a three-room home at 2537 No. 12th, testified as to the conditions she found.

Little Food

Beer cans littered the kitchen table, little food was in the ice box, the children, ages 10, 5, 4 and 2, had been cramped into one bedroom and two of the defendants, a man and a woman, occupied the second bedroom, according to her testimony.

Two police officers, who assisted in the arrests, testified six of the adults had been drinking. One officer considered all the defendants, except the mother, as "under the influence of drink."

Stiffest fine—$100—was given the 47-year-old father, Clyde Logan of 2537 No. 12th. The mother, Rose Logan, 29, was fined $25.

Lyle Collier, 21, of 6742 Platte, and Mrs. Fern Oelling, 28, of 100 West P, were each fined $50.

Fines of $25 were also levied against James Laws, 33, of 6601 Logan; Harry Bundy, 42, of 100 West P, and Fred Eggert, 64, of 100 West P, Mrs. Oelling's father.

Logan Cited

In the case, Judge Ronin said Logan had the "responsibility for the primary welfare of his home and children and did nothing to prevent the drinking, but participated in it." Mrs. Logan had "nothing to drink, but acquiesced to the conduct of the others," the court said.

Two of the defendants, Collier and Mrs. Oelling, contributed in the case by occupyi ; the back bedroom in the presence of the two older children, according to Judge Ronin.

Judge Ronin said the evidence as to the other three defendants, who arrived at the home only shortly before police, showed they had been drinking excessively and by their conduct contributed in the case.

Deputy County Attorney Edward Carter had told the court the condition of the home and children and the conduct of all defendants should be taken into consideration in the sum total of evidence.

New Arrivals

Clem Gaughan, attorney for the defendants, argued that three defendants, "who arrived only five minutes before police," had no responsibility for the charged conditions.

In other argument, he maintained several other defendants, who had driven to Council Bluffs and back with the children Saturday night, had been drinking, but not excessively, and had provided a hot meal for the children during the trip.

Gaughan defended conditions that Sunday morning as "not too unlike those of other families" who return home late Saturday night and are just arising Sunday morning.

The four children, who were taken to Cedars Home for Children by police, are presently in the custody of the Juvenile Court.

Ager Describes Improved Method Of Running Dump

An improved method of operation for the proposed new city dump north of Lincoln has been explained by Park Superintendent James Ager to the City Council.

The hot question of the dump location was laid over for hearing by the Council until next Monday, at the request of opponents to the site.

According to Ager, dumping in the new location would end every day at 4 p.m. This would give the city's crew time, he said, to cover the entire day's collection each day.

Also, he said, the area would be fenced to keep out "pickers" and burning would be kept to a planned minimum.

Luff, Dobbs Renaming To Planning Bd. OKd

The City Council has approved the re-appointment of Earl Luff and Chester B. Dobbs to six-year terms on the City Planning Commission.

Lucille Ledwith, Mrs. M. C. Leonard and Rev. C. Vin White have been re-appointed to the Council of Human Relations for terms expiring June 1, 1959.

Heartening News

Another sixty days will tell the final story of Nebraska's 1956 wheat crop. Meantime, the optimistic reports of the Department of Agriculture make hopeful reading. What they say is that the prospective yields look steadily better.

The department estimated the crop at 66,-348,000 bushels in its April 1 report. Its May 1 report raised the figure to 72,094,000 bushels.

The change was mostly accounted for by favorable growing weather and enough drought-breaking moisture to cut crop abandonment from an estimated 10 per cent to 6 per cent.. At this stage the state is rolling along toward a good crop—an average of 22 bushels to the acre.

While agriculture is troubled with farm program problems and unattractive prices it is still a truism that satisfactory production is the prime desideratum, for with such production there is a basis for solving problems, without it there are few if any remedies.

It is still fresh in the memory of Nebraskans that it was a bumper wheat crop last year which cushioned the effects of midsummer drought and a virtual collapse of the non-irrigated corn production. The prospect of repeating in wheat this year is therefore especially welcome. So it is with diversification. An agricultural state such as Nebraska has its reverses on occasion but seldom a total washout of production.

Most Distinguished Guest

Dr. Raden Hadji Soekarno, president of the Indonesian Republic, will set foot on American soil this week—an official visitor representing one the world's newest free, independent countries.

"Bung Karno," as he was admiringly called by his fellow Indonesians, was a leader in the independence movement which flowered after World War II and resulted in the withdrawal of the Dutch as colonial masters of Indonesia. He has remained at the helm of independent government, steering it toward stability and establishment.

The United States holds a special place of affection and esteem in Indonesia. Looked upon as the world's most glowing citadel of freedom and democracy, the United States offered an admirable philosophical example to the freedom-seeking Indonesians. They were even more grateful when the United States gave their cause a substantial lift. It prohibited the Dutch from using American foreign aid for the purpose of subduing the Indonesian revolt against colonialism.

While Dr. Soekarno plans to visit Russia, Canada and China on his extended tour, it is evident that his most fervent hope is for a tightening of the bonds of friendship and sympathy with this nation. Indonesia is an infant nation not yet of consequence in the world family of major nations. It has a long way to go and may never get there. But it merits special treatment. It is a part of the pattern of a new world. It could have a great future. America's best hope is in a new world, one dedicated to democracy, peace and enlightenment. In dealing thoughtfully and helpfully with Indonesia we have both an opportunity to help form the new world and to learn how to deal successfully with it. Dr. Soekarno therefore becomes one of the nation's most distinguished guests entitled to more than customary attention.

End Of The Rainbow

If Monday was a day of rejoicing and happiness in a number of Lincoln homes, there was good reason. It was the day when a group of Lincoln citizens, along with a number of other Nebraskans, 73 in all, became naturalized, thus completing the steps enabling them to call themselves full-fledged Americans.

Out of this group of 73, all but 20 made Lincoln their adopted home, and out of the 53 living in Lincoln, 31 gave Latvia as the land of their birth. From out of this incident come the echoes of the remarkable story of Karl Ulmanis, or, as he is known, Ullman, who served as premier of the little Republic of Latvia. The final fate of Karl Ulmanis is not known. He may have been a victim of the Russian Communist regime, which took over the Latvian Republic, bag and baggage; or he may be living in a Siberian exile camp.

But Karl Ulmanis was known as the "Premier from Nebraska." When Latvia still was a part of Russia, he found life life in peril there because of his revolutionary views, made his way to America, eventually reached Lincoln, entered the College of Agriculture of the University of Nebraska as a student, later became a dairyman and a teacher. He had a substantial role in serving his people both as premier and as minister of war, but his chief interest continued to be agriculture and it was much to the credit of Karl Ulmanis that Latvian farming could be distinguished from that in other European countries largely because the farm family lived on the land rather than in villages. Karl Ulmanis throughout his life was a sturdy believer in human freedom.

Lincoln has been greatly enriched by this fine, outstanding group of Latvians who on Monday fulfilled all the requirements for American citizenship. Whether they, as displaced persons, derived an inspiration from Karl Ulmanis to come to the Nebraska capital, we cannot say, but we do know that if the example set by a native Latvian influenced their lives, it would be a deep satisfaction to the former Latvian premier, wherever he may be.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Unless Nebraskans conclude that stern duty requires them to mark a ballot, Tuesday's primary election, cost what it may, is a poor investment. Not even the candidates, at least the majority of them, it would seem, have developed sufficient interest to lift a little finger. Campaigning was at a minimum, and interest among the voters somewhat less than a minimum.

★

Nebraska is not alone. The same apathy and indifference have revealed themselves in all but two states in this year of 1956—a presidential election year—when every seat in the House of Representatives and a third of those in the Senate are to be filled. Add to that state elections and a presidential primary, and the reasonable assumption would be that the voter would be eager to take the time and trouble to express himself. The most impressive example was provided by the Massachusetts primary. There an approximate 10 per cent of the voters marked a ballot. Or, putting it another way, nearly 90 per cent stayed at home. One Massachusetts election official was quoted in the news columns as saying that the lightness of the vote was a disgrace. "Disgrace" may be the word for it, but we ought to be able to pick something more fitting. If the temptation to stay at home at the sacrifice of an opportunity to visit the polls has become irresistible, then there must be a reason for it.

Pattern For Nation

The Republicans like to think that the explanation is provided by general satisfaction with the Eisenhower administration. People, the party in power reasons, generally are so well satisfied that they see no reason for a change. That is one way of looking at it. But another explanation, and one possibly a little more accurate, is a lack of confidence in both of the old major parties. The independent vote in this country is growing year by year. The disposition of the voter to register as an independent is becoming more marked. The independent voter cannot qualify for either a Republican or a Democratic ballot. He sacrifices an opportunity to express himself at the primary.

★

More to point however, is the character of national leadership at this time. The Eisenhower administration came into power dedicated to a great crusade "to clean up the mess in Washington," so it said. Well, if it has been engaged in a crusade, no one knows anything about it. It has been so quiet, so peaceful, so completely devoid of substance that the natural human reaction to be anticipated under such circumstances is missing entirely. In 1956 the voter is going to the polls with but one thought in mind. He will mark his ballot in November on the basis of the condition of his pocketbook. If that pocketbook is flat or even lean, the Republican party will be out of luck. If it is fat or bulging, the Democrats do not have a chance. That is the real story of the primaries thus far—including Nebraska's primary today. People do not care about conditions now. They have their eyes fixed on the future. They say to themselves they will know how to vote better in November than they do at this time.

Lacking In Vitality

That is the gamble which the party in power takes with its issue of peace and prosperity.

Just A Month Ago

Lest all forget, it was just a month ago that an assailant threw acid in the face of Victor Reisel, labor campaigner and commentator. Reisel, a foe of racketeering and gangsterism, was and is a strong single force for betterment. It is now the opinion of medical specialists that the attack permanently destroyed his eyesight. The assault was as surely an attack on free speech and individual citizenship as any that can be cited. But the attacker is still at large. On him the books must never be closed.

No Headway

This bright new age, we are sorry to note, is only bright in a few spots. There are areas where no headway has been made at all.

A reminder of this is carried in a report from the post office department which says that dogs are biting mailmen as usual. Last year 5,880 carriers were bitten, which both the department and the mailmen consider an excessive number. They are skeptical of the saying that the dog is man's best friend. The statement is ambiguous. It doesn't say which man.

At any rate the department proposes to do something. It has discarded the ammonia pistol idea. It takes care of the dogs all right, but poses a more serious owner problem. More favored at this time is psychology or special armorplating of the carrier's legs. It seems to us it would be cheaper and easier to turn the problem over to the owners. Biting dog? No mail service.

Hard To Square

A Senate committee learned the other day that Murray Chotiner, California friend and campaign manager for Vice President Richard Nixon, made a call at the White House and subsequently two presidential assistants made calls to the CAB in behalf of his clients. Subsequently the administration passed off the incident as one of no significance and there the matter seems to rest.

Things have changed since 1951. At that time a Senate committee rebuked William M. Boyle for making an appointment at the RFC for the head of the American Lithofold Co. Boyle was executive vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. It was Nixon who said then that "the very fact that the introduction comes from the national committee . . . constitutes influence."

Congressman Nets $185,000 On Land

WASHINGTON — Rep. Victor Wickersham, the Oklahoma Democrat who has made more money in real estate than most people make from oil in Oklahoma, got worried about my investigation of his latest deal and had friends rush into print with his version of how he was making a cool $185,000 by selling land indirectly to the government.

Congressman Wickersham, however, did not reveal all the story. The whole story, including his many real-estate transactions, sounds like a fairy tale, with Uncle Sam, in some cases, being the good fairy to the poverty-stricken Congressman who came to rich Washington from poor Oklahoma complaining that a Congressman's salary was too meagre to live on.

Mr. Wickersham states in his self penned congressional biography that he was "reared on a cotton, wheat, and dairy farm." If being down-on-the-farm taught him how to make money in the nation's capital then perhaps Ike should make him secretary of the treasury — even if he is a Democrat.

For Victor not only has had his 70-year-old god father on Uncle Sam's payroll as a Library of Congress watchman and elevator operator; he also ran a used-car lot on a rent-free congressional parking lot; also participated in a half-million-dollar land option involving an Air Force installation in southern Maryland; also acquired 882.5 acres on the edge of the Everglades National Park in Florida without it costing him a dime; also snapped up some land in the vicinity of the Air Force Academy in Colorado; and now has bought and sold within a year a neat parcel of land on which the Geological Survey wants to build a huge laboratory.

Barefoot Congressman

Just where the farm-reared Congressman from Mangum, Okla., gets this magic touch, and how he knows in advance that government installations are going to be built in certain places is the point this column was investigating when the Congressman had his friends rush into print regarding his latest land deal which netted him $185,000.

Here is the real story of this deal — including some of the details Wickersham's friends omitted.

For some time Geological Survey had been eyeing a spot near Great Falls on the Potomac River which it considered ideal for its hydrological laboratory which must be near a river. Discreet inquiries indicated the land, formerly the site of an old gold mine, could be acquired for $600 to $800 an acre. However, government red tape held up the deal.

Meanwhile, Congressman Wickersham got busy. He asked the agency to inform him of its plans and recommendations for future building, and the agency obediently sent him a map showing four possible locations for the new laboratory.

Obviously the map was confidential; for the good reason that the government didn't want to tip off land speculators. Furthermore it's illegal for a Congressman to sell land to the government. This law was passed for the specific purpose of preventing Congressman with inside tips from becoming speculators themselves.

Douglas In Line For Finance Post

WASHINGTON — The late George Norris, the fighting liberal from Nebraska, once said that Americans would have to vote progressively for 20 years to become a truly progressive nation because it would take at least that long to capture the Senate Finance Committee. No senator would disagree.

The Senate Finance Committee handles the pocketbook issues, including taxes and social security. It is the outward and visible bulwark of the conservative coalition of Southern Democrats and right wing Republicans which has effectively run the Congress since 1938.

One death, one impending retirement and one illness within the space of weeks have reached into Senate finance. Senator Barkley is gone. Senator George, its ranking Democrat, will retire Dec. 31 next. Senator Millikin, its ranking Republican, whose term expires this year, is so crippled with arthritis he can come to the floor only in a wheel chair.

Furthermore its carefully constructed conservative walls are about to be breached by the ablest fiscal liberal of the Senate, Paul Douglas of Illinois. Arguing that it is not necessary to be a wastrel to be a liberal, Douglas is the Senate's most dedicated foe of the pork barrel of local public works projects. He is a lucid economist and a good debater.

☆ ☆ ☆

When Democrats recaptured the Senate in 1954, Douglas tried to assert a seniority claim to membership on finance. How majority Leader Johnson of Texas handled that and finance membership generally clearly illustrates why so many Northern Democrats find his leadership frustrating in spite of its technical brilliance.

It was no mean feat for there were three vacancies for Democrats to fill on the committee.

Alben Barkley, the beloved veep had just returned modestly to the back row of the Senate as the junior senator from Kentucky. Who could deny him his old place on finance?

The majority leader then exercised his prerogative of committee choice and took the second vacancy. Senator Smathers of Florida had the requisite seniority for the third.

Earlier under the Johnson leadership Senator Long of Louisiana had inherited the spot left by the retirement of Senator Connally of Texas. Senator Kerr of Oklahoma, oil millionaire and author of the natural gas bill vetoes by Harry Truman, was already there.

Only California of the Tidelands Oil states remained unrepresented.

BOB CONSIDINE

Natives Not Awed By Atomic Blasts

ABOARD MT. McKINLEY, ATOMIC PROVING GROUND—It's all very nice and exciting and energy really does equal Mc square, as Prof. Einstein insisted back in 1912. We've seen it all take mushroom shape here in the Pacific in the beginning of a series of tests that will cost $150,000,000 over and beyond the cost of the firecrackers.

But what about King Juda? Has anybody asked him what he thinks. Nope, not a soul. For one thing, and much against his will the conquering leader of Bikini atoll isn't permitted by the U. S. government to live there any more. There's a highly sensitive electronics installation where he used to sit in his thatched hut and whomp the end off a succulent cocoanut with one slash of his long knife. To get to the king for an exclusive snort of indignation now you'd have to have an outrigger canoe and a snort interpreter—neither of which the otherwise hospitable A.E.C. will provide.

Juda and his people haven't found a good tasting fish or cocoanut since they were picked up, kit and kaboodle, a decade ago and asked by us to let us start blowing their little home around with A-bombs. We've moved the whole little tribe twice now, but Juda knocks the head off a preferred fish, takes a chaw of meat and shakes his head.

I had a dream last night that Juda formed a pact with the Marshallese we dusted with radioactive ashes during the last tests and quietly boarded the Mt. McKinley armed to the hilt with poison darts. It wasn't a bit pretty what they did to us, even after we explained what fine benefactors we've been to them.

One of the most popular Civil Defense observers on the trip is young good-looking Walter Kohler, 3-time governor of Wisconsin. Kohler wanted to take the possibly dangerous job as "pool" man in the plane that is to be part of the vast aerial force participating in our first aerial drop of the hydrogen bomb. But he felt it might be considered a political act in some circles back home. Kohler has stuck doggedly to Civil Defense and bomb talk on the trip and avoided, whenever humenly possible, the political questions tossed at him.

He will not seek re-election, he has announced. What he will do two years hence he is not saying. Sen. Joe McCarthy is up for re-election then, but the governor will not say whether or not he intends to seek McCarthy's seat. He will not run against the state's senior senator, Alexander Wiley, next fall.

May's waxing moon is in the fixed, fiery and barren sign, Leo, today. Late tomorrow night, second lunar quarter will begin and early Thursday morning the moon will enter the flexed, earthy and dry sign, Virgo. Saturday morning at 10:27 it will enter the movable, airy and semi-fruitful sign, Libra, considered by the ancients the best sign of all in which to plant seeds of annual flowers. Why? It was said to enhance them with more "beauty and fragrance." Monday afternoon at 5:29 the moon still on the increase will enter the fixed, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Scorpio.

Mrs. Swingle

Just look ahead at all the excellent planting days for those plants that produce their yield above the soil. I hope to sow seeds of tender annual herbs. Until recently the soil has been too cold for sweet basil, sweet marjoram, Florence fennel, etc. They like warm soil, full sun and not too rich a soil.

Here's a picture of the "Herb Wheel" which I told you I was doing for the Garden Club of Lincoln's flower show last week end. Those potted are perennials, as chives, melissa (lemon balm), thyme vulgaris, golden thyme, giant thyme, tansy, and several mints, catnip, nepita, common mint used for beverages and in sauces for lamb and spearmint.

Luckily I had sweet basil (potted last autumn from our herb patch) growing in a kitchen window. Otherwise I would not have had a plant of sweet basil to show. It being a very tender annual, the seeds had not been planted this spring. It is the tall one at back, to the left.

The other to the right is columbine. An herb? Yes, but neither culinary nor medicinal. I just put it in for interest because this particular specie is native to eastern and southern Nebraska. It grows in woods in partial shade and the blooms are rusty red and yellow.

I couldn't resist adding two stalks of iris that were just ready to burst into bloom. A very old variety but an early bloomer and very decorative out here in our garden on Locust Lane. "Purple King" is not to be confused with the other old variety and also early bloomer, "Kochi." "Purple King" has a pale blue beard, while the beard of "Kochi" is orange.

The bottles contain herb-vinegar which I make every late summer—sweet basil, dill, tarragon, etc.

—and the apothecary jars contain dried herbs. I call my herbs "Honey Bee Herbs" and if you look closely you'll see an artificial bee made of chenille and tiny feathers (once worn gaily on a spring hat) zooming down on the card near the tansy.

When you read this, I shall be down in Kansas City and from there we are going on a jaunt into the Ozarks.

So until another day—

Election Day

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This is my contribution for the Tuesday primary:

All workers must unite
To safeguard all their rights
Regardless of their color, race or creed
We welcome all who toil
In the shop or on the soil,
For unity is now our basic need.

We shall strive for lasting peace
With the hope that wars will cease
And everyone will be freed from want and fear
In this land so fair,
There is plenty and to spare,
But our system of reward is out of gear.

Labor surely has its foes
And the good Lord only knows
What tactics they will use to gain their end,
Whatever be their aim,
It will be our shame
If at the polls we don't our rights defend.

Our motto is fair play
For all from day to day
For righteousness and truth we firmly ask,
Free us from all strife
As we travel through this life,
And we pray the Lord to guide us in our task.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I wish to thank Roy Campbell for the wonderful description of the courtroom activities on the day the verdict was reached in the Darrel Parker case. No one can equal Mr. Campbell's ability to bring out the human interest side of a story and make one feel as though he were really at the scene himself, seeing the events taking place with his own eyes.

Also, Virgil Falloon gave such an accurate and unbiased daily account of the trial that he is to be highly commended. Two great writers for a fine newspaper.

Pencils Everywhere, Not A One To Write

Once upon a time a fountain pen was for the rich and an automatic pencil was something reserved for scholarly young relatives on their 21st birthdays

If it were that way today, one of the major problems of housekeeping at our house would not exist. We are overburdened with fountain pens and automatic pencils. We are up to our Adam's apples in them. They are running out our vacuum cleaner.

We have pens with and without snorkels. We have them with ball points, silver tips, electroplated nibs, spreading points and no points at all. We have the kind with plungers, cartridges, plastic sacks and magic formulas inside them. And just to be sure of not being caught with our fountains empty, we have three old-fashioned wooden pen holders equipped with old-fashioned steel pen points.

☆ ☆ ☆

There is an equally wide assortment of automatic pencils to choose from, should anyone come to visit us and want to write a letter home. Pencils are best for this purpose at our house, mostly because there is never any ink for the pens. There is never any lead for most of the pencils, either, but in a moment of desperation there are always the six or seven whittled-down stubs of old style wood-encased lead, plus a few stray carpenter's pencils and some pieces of chalk.

If everything else fails, there are the colored crayons.

All of these supposed instruments of communication are headquartered in an antique pressed-glass celery bowl on Mrs. F.'s desk in the dining room, a handy central location from which to infiltrate the rest of the household. It is, you might say, the core of our problem.

The problem comes to life every three or four weeks, usually when someone needs to endorse a check, balance the bank statement, do some homework, write a thank-you note or draw a map of how to get to the shop where they sell tortillas. The crisis begins with a suggestion we ought to throw out the pens and pencils that won't work.

"You weed 'em out," I then suggest to Mrs. F. "Be ruthless about it."

She is not the ruthless type. First thing you know, she calls out, "How about this funny looking old gold pencil with the knob on top of it?" The family thereupon congregates to inspect the item in question, and I scream, "Not that one. That's the one with a cigarette lighter in the top of it."

"Does it work?"

"Which—the lighter or the pencil?"

"Either one."

"No."

Just the same, I place the pencil firmly back in the celery bowl, and then there is an outcry from Merrilee, our daughter. "Hey, what's this nice liquid-lead pencil from the Winnetonka Bait and Tackle Shop doing in the discard? It's the only pink pencil we've got, and all it needs is a new cartridge." So it goes back into the bowl.

By the time the session is through, the only pieces in the discard are three wooden pencil stubs and a plugged nickel which somehow always winds up at the bottom of the bowl. A person hates to throw a nickel away, even one with a hole in it, so for lack of a better place to keep it, we put it back. That leaves the stubs.

POSTCARD

How the weeks fly by in the merry, merry month of May. Last week was National Motel Week. Next week is National Domestic Rabbit Week. On the level.

This week is Letters From America Week: "A person-to-person effort of combating Communist distortions and propaganda about life in the United States."

If you know someone overseas, write them a letter.

'Cher Pierre Be careful about distortions and propaganda, Pierre The Motels are flashing 'No Vacancy' signs. And Domestic Rabbits are domestic and rabbity as all get out."

☆ ☆ ☆

The month of May is the month of flowers, cher Pierre. And please don't let this get around, for it might get distorted. It is also the month of gizzard ache.

This is the month when stomach ulcers pop up along with the crocus. And medics entertain the yearly crop of customers who clutch their tummies while they read the 2-month-old copies of National Geographic in the outer office.

'Doc," they say, 'it must have been something I ate"

I don't know what your national complaint is, Pierre. But ours is the fluttering stomach. The local medics, having given up on the cure, are now trying to talk it away.

"The wound stripe of the Twentieth Century," they say jovially.

For most of us, this problem shows up in the month of May.

Dr. Leo J Starry of the University of Oklahoma has a mighty clever reason. He says it is the irritation of income tax time

However, they just changed our income tax from March 15 to April 15 By the way I figure it, that should have set the stomach problem back a month. Back to June.

But no. The American internal pays no attention to the fiscal years. It goes on biting in May. Just like a hungry trout. Come May and 10 per cent of us undistorted taxpayers grab the midriff and tell the medic.

"But Doc, I've never been sick a day in my life."

Well, all this comes to mind today, Pierre, because my own delicate structure is churning

I have a very peculiar structure I don't have the actual thing But I give such a good imitation of it that the medical profession is amazed. They give you something that looks like a milkshake. But tastes like Hawaiian poi. Then they X-ray you.

Well, I come out clear as glass. Not a mark on me. But you can scarcely believe this, Pierre. My stomach is doing something as though it had the real thing. A matter of May, I guess. And being in sympathy. For I am a very sympathetic individual when May rolls round each year.

I see now that a sure-fire cure is coming on the market. It cured chicken gizzards and apparently will knock off this May nonsense for us.

Scientists are funny people. First they needle the chickens. I don't know how. But I suspect they talked to them about egg overproduction. And income tax. And how to take advantage of capital gains and legal deductions.

Pretty soon all the chickens were picking around and holding their stomachs. They had it but good

The scientists then proceeded to cure them. The chickens went around eating corn and saying: "Nuts to the Internal Revenue." Their own internals feeling so good. The scientists then tried it on people and the people said the same thing.

So as you can see, cher Pierre, this American problem is temporary. And that is my letter from America to you. And if the new drug does not prove to be the biggest answer since Khrushchev said, "Nyet," don't worry.

The motels are full. And the domestic rabbit is full of carrots. And miserable May is half away. And June will soon be here.

"Today, the Goetz family puts its old established brewing name on a beer especially made for you"

A personal message from Karl Goetz

President of the M. K. Goetz Brewing Company

"We are sure that you, and everyone who likes beer, have an 'ideal' . . . a beer that's hard to describe but can be recognized in an instant by its distinctive flavor and quality.

"Today, the Goetz family puts its old established brewing name on a beer especially made for you. It's GOETZ—and we believe it may well be your ideal. Your very first glass of GOETZ tells you here is unusually clear and sparkling beer. Beer with a clean, fresh taste. And GOETZ is wet . . . the kind of cooling wetness you wish for when you're thirsty.

"The Goetz family has been brewing beer for nearly a century—97 years to be exact—and we're proud and grateful for our friendly, long-standing relationship with so many millions of people. And frankly, we have never felt quite so good about our beer as we do right now—about GOETZ.

"There's an old tradition in our family—brew every bottle as though it's the only bottle you brew—and GOETZ measures up to that tradition. No expense nor pains have been spared to bring you this kind of purity, quality and uniformity. We hope you will try GOETZ, and soon, because we're sure you will like it."

Sincerely,

Karl Goetz

Brakeman May Have To Return $90,000 Awarded For Injury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court last fall ruled that the New Haven Railroad must pay $90,000 to an injured brakeman. Monday the court reversed the decision and sent the case back to a lower court

Oh my God," said brakeman Raymond G. Cahill, 24, at his New Haven, Conn, home "You mean they're going to take it away?"

The railroad already had paid Cahill the money on the basis of the first decision and he has spent a good part of it.

Monday's reversal was a 5-4 decision Last fall's decision also was 5-4 The justice who changed his mind and swung the court the other way was Sherman Minton.

Finality

The minority of four in the new decision filed a harshly ordered protest against reopening the case and sending it back to a lower court. "There should be a finality somewhere," the minority opinion said

Asked if he had spent much of his damage award, Cahill said

'I'll be honest with you I have three children, and I bought a piece of property and I'm building a nominally priced house on it, about $12 000

"I paid all my bills, about $20 000, and I bought a station wagon I haven't even bought a suit of clothes for myself"

In the background, over the telephone, a woman started to sob

Going To Pieces

"That's my wife,' said Cahill I'll have to hang up now I've been disappointed so many times one of us had kind of got to keep from going to pieces"

Cahill was injured by a truck that started up suddenly while the brakeman was flagging traffic behind a stalled train in New Haven. He contended he was told to work in a dangerous place without being warned

A U. S District Court jury granted the $90,000 damages A Circuit Court reversed it Last Nov 21 the Supreme Court upheld the award and the railroad paid it to Cahill

1 More Point

But in March the railroad asked that the case be sent back to the Circuit Court for consideration of one more point—whether the trial judge properly admitted evidence of previous accidents at the spot where Cahill was injured

This is what the Supreme Court did in its second decision Monday s majority opinion said 'We deem our original order erroneous and recall it in the interests of fairness"

The new decision does not necessarily mean Cahill cannot eventually win again It does mean new litigation in a case that already was decided once by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Youth, 17, Pleads Guilty To Hidden Weapon Charge

A 17-year old St Louis, Mo., youth has pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon

The youth, a suspect in an 80-cent armed robbery at St Louis, was picked up by the State Safety Patrol near Lincoln last Wednesday He was carrying a loaded 25-caliber automatic

He is presently serving a 10-day county jail term on a vagrancy charge. A 14-year-old girl, who was hitchhiking with the youth when arrested, is being held at the county detention home on a juvenile delinquency and dependency complaint

Judge John Polk has deferred sentencing of the youth pending an investigation by the adult probation officer. Meanwhile, the county attorney's office said no word has been received from St. Louis authorities.

Woman Dies In Carleton Crossing Crash

'56 Road Death Toll Hits 103

Lincoln Star Special

CARLETON, Neb. — A car-freight-train collision at a Carleton crossing about noon Monday claimed the life of Mrs. Jim L. Bailey, 67, driver of the auto involved.

Mrs. Bailey was instantly killed in the accident, according to Thayer County Sheriff Herbert Schoenfeld. She was traveling alone.

The sheriff said the signal lights at the Union Pacific crossing were working at the time of the accident. She was thrown 180 feet by the impact.

Mrs Bailey, who had just dropped her husband off downtown, was en route to her daughter's home when the mishap occurred. The Baileys live on the edge of Carleton.

Her survivors include her husband, a daughter, Mrs Isabelle Swenson of Carleton, and a son, Russell, who is in the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Bailey's death brought the state's 1956 highway fatility toll to 103, compared to 104 at this time last year.

Meanwhile, nine other Nebraskans died as the result of traffic accidents over the weekend — six in a single accident in Colorado.

The victims:

Dennis Hunt, 88, Lincoln.

Tommie G. Corf, 31, Kimball; his wife, Marlene, 24, and their four children. Terry Lee, 7, Leta, 2, Sandra, 16 months, and an infant boy.

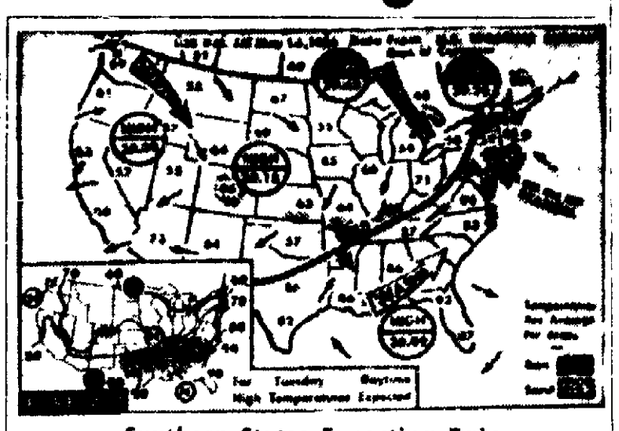
August Rohde, 67, Ansley.

Allen W. Miner, 51, Omaha.

The Corf family died in a fiery auto accident on Colorado Highway 52 near Fort Morgan.

Eyewitnesses said the Corf car was heading south at a high rate of speed when it sideswiped a car driven by George Fritz, about 50, of Fort Morgan. After sideswiping the Fritz auto, which was sitting on the shoulder of the road, the eyewitnesses said the Corf vehicle went end-over-end into a ditch and burst into flames.

Fritz and Kathlene Corf 5, were taken to a Fort Morgan hospital in serious condition.



Southern States Expecting Rain

Rain is expected Tuesday in the southern states from the Carolinas and Georgia west to Oklahoma and Texas and also in Colorado. It will be cooler in an area from the middle and North Atlantic states southwest through the lower Ohio Valley to Arkansas. It will be warmer from parts of the Mississippi Valley west and south to the Pacific Coast. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Retail Sales Go Down Slightly Compared To Year-Ago Mark

The retail-sales picture for March shows Nebraska to be a little below a year ago, down 2.8 per cent, and slightly above the preceding month, up 0.5 per cent.

Business in Nebraska, a monthly bulletin prepared by the University of Nebraska's department of business research, reported that the real drop is in hard goods, such as automobiles, building materials, hardware, furniture, and farm equipment.

During February, retail sales in hard goods were down 10.5 per cent and soft goods were up 2.8 per cent over a year ago.

For these principal cities, a decrease was reported in hard goods: Omaha, 8 per cent; Hastings, 24.6 per cent; Grand Island, 0.1 per cent; Scottsbluff, 17.3 per cent; Fremont, 5.8 per cent; and Norfolk, 18.6 per cent. Lincoln showed an increase of 9.8 per cent.

In soft goods during March, most of the cities showed increases, Omaha, 3.3 per cent; Lincoln, 10 per cent; Hastings, 0.1 per cent; Scottsbluff, 10.6 per cent; and Norfolk, 6.2 per cent. Decreases were reported by Grand Island, 5.2 per cent, and Fremont, 2.1 per cent.

The state showed a 2.3 per cent increase in the unadjusted city index, which includes bank debits, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts, and newspaper advertising.

Cities showing increases were: North Platte, 13.5; McCook, 9.9; Lincoln, 8.1; Columbus, 5.3; Fremont, 4.0; Omaha, 3.3; Alliance, 2.5; Holdrege, 2.4 Grand Island, 1.9; Norfolk, 1.5; Scottsbluff, 1.2; and Broken Bow, 0.6.

Decreases were reported by Nebraska City, 0.6 Chadron, 1.0; Beatrice, 1.6; Hastings, 2.5; and Kearney, 2.7.

The March retail-sales index, adjusted for seasonal changes follows:

	Per Cent of Mar., 1955	Per Cent of Feb., 1956

Clerk Appearing On TV Political Program Is Fired

OMAHA (AP) — Douglas County Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan Monday fired a clerk for appearing on a televised political program without permission.

The sheriff said he had asked and received the resignation of Mrs. Herman Stevens who appeared Sunday on a program produced by Phil Allen, candidate for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the second district.

"All employes had been warned not to take part in any political campaign without my expressed wishes," the sheriff said.

"All that such action by her would tend to do," he said, "would be to alienate from me the votes of all oppoents of Mr. Allen."

Man, 67, Dies In Tilden Fire

TILDEN, Neb. (AP) — Albert Preuss, 67, who lived alone in a one room house here, burned to death Monday.

Firemen believe Preuss was using gasoline from a can found near the body, to start a fire in a small heating stove, and that the fire followed an explosion.

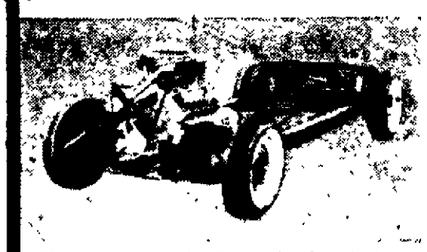
BIG-CAR RIDE? Don't think you have to pay a big-car price to get it. Come in and . . .

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

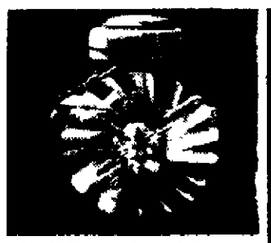
A smoother ride with Oriflow! Dodge fluid-activated shock absorbers give more precise control than spring-loaded valves in other cars

It took "big-car" ride to go 31,000 miles in 14 days! No car that just talked "big" could have withstood the tremendous punishment Dodge did at Bonneville. Dodge went 14 days and nights (31,000 miles) at an average speed of 92.86 mph without a single breakdown!

Only a big car can give you big-car ride! And Dodge is bigger all around—inside and out. More legroom front and rear. More hiproom front and rear. More steering wheel clearance.



The backbone of the Dodge ride is a better chassis! It starts with a rugged frame with sturdy box-section side rail construction far superior to common U-channel and I-beam types. Cross members are extra heavy.



The V-8 engine is special, too! The 260-hp. V-8 engine is built on advanced aircraft-design principles to give you real break-away power.

BRIDES

Announcing plans for her wedding this morning is Miss Barbara Ann Eicke, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi at the University of Nebraska, who will become the bride of Charles E. Armstrong of Omaha, on June 23.

The wedding will take place at the air base chapel in Bainbridge, Ga., where Mr. Armstrong is stationed with the Air Force, and the service will be solemnized at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of members of the families and a small group of friends.

Miss Frances Lorraine Eicke of Rosalie will be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Eicke, Mrs. Jim Pycha, Jr., Mrs. William Hamann, Mrs. Joe Pycha and Mrs. Richard Heyne entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower held at Walthill.

Miss Thelma Firestone will be the honored guest on Thursday when Miss Alma Firestine and Mrs. Warren Firestone will entertain in courtesy to the bride-to-be at a miscellaneous shower. The party will be held at 7 o'clock in the parlors of Grace Methodist Church.

Miss Firestone, who will become the bride of Donald Shanks on June 9, also will be honored on Friday evening at a personal and china shower to be held at the home of Mrs. G. C. McKeen. Hostesses for the informal dessert supper will be Miss Janice McKee, Miss Lavonne Hulbert and Mrs. Maurice Salmen. Also included among future courtesies for the bride-elect will be the one-gift shower on Wednesday evening, May 23, when Mrs. Myrlen Shrader will be hostess to a group of friends at her home.

BSP Chapter Entertains

The members of Alpha Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained at a Mothers Day tea last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William L. Ferguson. Mrs. John O. Roux, chapter president, welcomed the guests and a program of readings was given by Miss Joyce Fangman and Miss Luanne Raun, members of the University of Nebraska Masquers. Mrs. Willis R. Hecht read a group of poems.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Carl Dietrich, Mrs. Albert Pekar, Mrs. A. R. Way and Mrs. W. L. Schmieding.

There's News Around Town

WELL forgoodnesssake — It doesn't seem possible we have reached the half-way mark in the month, but we have — and it means that we'll be hearing more and more of June brides-elect, to say nothing of those who have chosen wedding dates in late May — It also means that dancing clubs are winding up their season with spring parties — such as the Colonial Dancing Club which held its last dinner dance of the year last Friday evening at Hillcrest — We told you about that a few days ago, but what we didn't tell you was that new officers were named to fill the vacancy of new officers—A bit ambiguous, perhaps, but it seems that Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Splichal, who were named to the presidency at the usual election of officers, will not be around next year — The Splichals have been transferred to Cedar Rapids, Ia. So — on Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGinnis were chosen to assume the duties of president.

* * *

THE REVELERS will be dining and dancing on Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker, and in charge of the arrangements for the "Vacationland Special" is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edholm, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burden, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Wiedman and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Forke.

* * *

WHEN Mrs. Robert G. Simmons entertains at a tea at her home this afternoon, between the hours of 4 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock, it will be to honor Mrs. B. Tara Bai of New Delhi, India. Presiding at the refreshment table will be Mrs. Victor Anderson and Mrs. W. V. Lambert, and assisting in the dining room will be Miss Mabel Lee, and six foreign students in the department of home economics at the University of Nebraska, including Mrs. Gourie Mukherjee, Miss Saroj Khanna, Miss Usha Sondhi, Miss Padmini Ramaseshan, all of India; Mrs. Primitiva Manalo, of the Philippines, and Miss Lichu Chen of Formosa.

Mrs. Tara Bai is directress of Lady Irwin Home Economics College in New Delhi, and is president of the All-India Home Economics Association.

* * *

THE merry-go-round of bridal courtesies begins this evening when Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt will be hosts and hostess at dinner at the University Club in courtesy to Miss Mary House and her fiance, Robert (Tommy) Hawke.

* * *

AND on Saturday evening Miss House and Mr. Hawke will again share honors when Mr. and Mrs. Bennett S. Martin and their son, Bruce Martin, entertain at the formal opening of the Lincoln Country Club. Sixteen guests have been invited for dinner and dancing.

* * *

AND there are other Saturday parties for other brides — Miss Nancy Hemphill, for instance, whose marriage to Robert Dawson will take place on June 10, will be complimented on Saturday when Miss Muriel Pickett is hostess at a dessert luncheon at Hotel Cornhusker. The guests, all Pi Beta Phi sisters, will present the bride-elect with a stainless steel shower.

* * *

ANOTHER Saturday courtesy is the luncheon for which Mrs. Joseph Winterhalter and Mrs. Richard Alloway will be hostesses at the Lincoln Country Club when they compliment Miss Diane Weiss whose marriage to Lt. Jack Gordon will take place on May 26. Twelve guests have been invited for the luncheon and bathroom shower, and among them will be the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Roy Weiss of Las Vegas, Nev., formerly of Lincoln.

* * *

NEWS from Bassinet circles this morning tells us of the arrival of Stephen Birk Sands on Monday, May 14, at Lincoln General Hospital. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mrs. Helen Platt and Edward Platt, both of New York City, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Sandlovich.

Arriving today to greet her grandson — to visit her son-in-law and daughter, and to keep an eye on Stephen's three older brothers, Edward, Alan and David, will be Mrs. Platt.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Our usual weekly visit to Eastridge convinced us that we have been 100 per cent right in our statements that dull moments are not popular in the area—There always is something to do.

Take the past week-end, for instance — The weather was much too pleasant on Saturday to stay at home so six couples decided to do something about it—and did—they went to Waubonsie Park, Ia., and had a wonderful time.

The Eastridge residents in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brogden, Dr. and Mrs. Caleb Foote, and Dr. and Mrs. Louis Gilbert. They were joined for the expedition by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bates and Dr. and Mr. William Brill.

There's a party planned for next week-end—a farewell courtesy on Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nelson who, with their children, will be leaving Lincoln soon for their new home in Cedar Rapids, Ia. The affair is to be a hamburger-fry, and it will be given by seven families whose back gardens join—The group of hosts and hostesses will include Mr. and Mrs. A. W. (Bo) Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Huelle, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stehly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glatz and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Grantski.

Hear that tomorrow is the day that Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly will be returning home from Denver where they have been spending the past five days.

Found some new neighbors in Eastridge this morning—Mr. and Mrs. William D. Quinn and their family, for instance, have just moved into their home at 5615 Randolph St.

And then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Donald McIntire now are residing in Eastridge—They moved into their new home at 727 Dale Dr., just recently.

The past week-end was not without its guests in Eastridge—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Baird and their children, Jerry, Caroline and Cathy, came from Hastings to spend the week-end as the house guests of Mr. Baird's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hoig.

Joining the group for a Mother's Day dinner were Mr. Hoig's and Mrs. Baird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoig.

To Be Hostess To PEO Chapter

Architecture Students Given Prizes

Alan Petersen of McCook and John Beggin of Apple River, Ill., both University of Nebraska seniors, won the Home Builders Association awards for house designs, it was announced at the Home Builders meeting at Cotner Terrace Monday night.

Both home designs were three bedroom, split-level type. They are expected to be constructed by Lincoln builders for the Parade of Homes display during National Home Week, Sept. 15-23.

Petersen, son of Mr and Mrs. C W. Petersen, designed the winning home plan in the cost bracket of $20-$25,000, and Beggin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Beggin, drew a home for the $10-$15,000 bracket. Each received $100.

Other winners in the $20-$25,000 competition were Jim Haberlan of Lincoln, second place, and honorable mentions for Jerry Spencer of Fairbury and Ray Stoneman of Lincoln. Haberlan received $100 and the other two each got $50.

Other winners in the $10-$15,000 competition were Bert Van Engen of Lincoln, second place, and honorable mentions to Ray Stoneman of Lincoln and Robert Ray of Tilden. The prizes were the same for this competition.

The first two prize designs will be entered in a competition sponsored nationally by the "Living for Young Homemakers" magazine.

Judges for the competition were G Hugh Tsurouka of Chicago, architect and design editor, and Robert Englebrecht of New York City, editor of architecture, both of "Living for Young Homemakers", M. W Anderson and John Strauss, Lincoln builders; and Erik Jensen and Jim Porter, faculty members of the NU department of architecture.

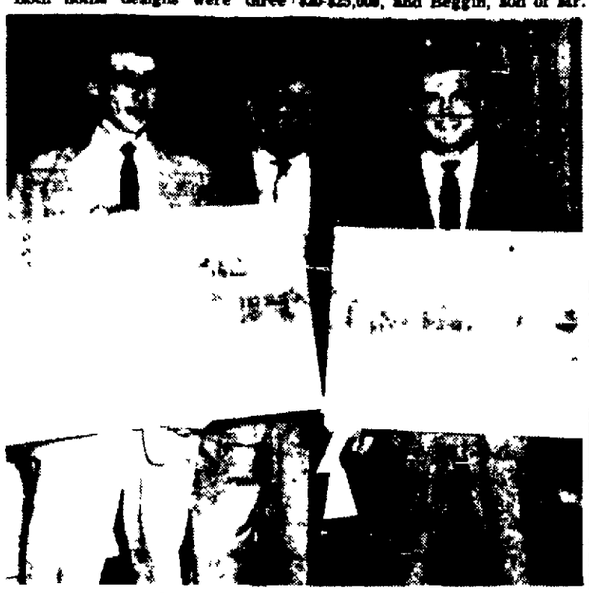
Prof. Jensen told the group that "the students are presenting a better and more progressive house than last year"

Prof. Porter said "this program is an excellent idea."

G. Hugh Tsurouka said the student work "is as good as the professional talent" in other cities holding competition.

Robert Engelbrecht said "we are considering making this idea of the Home Builders to use a student's design in their Parade of Home an example across the country.

An honorable mention plaque was awarded to builder Ervin E. Peterson for the outstanding exhibit home and merchandising program at the Acapulco Derby. The contest was sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders.



Students Show Winning Plans

John Beggin (left) of Apple River, Ill., and Alan Petersen (right) of McCook, are shown with their winning home designs at the Lincoln Home Builders Association meeting Monday night where the winners were announced Clyde Card, (center) president of the association, presented $100 to each of the University of Nebraska department of architecture seniors. Council Caught In Middle Of Battle Over Fate Of Leighton, 33rd-48th

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council was placed in the middle of a battle Monday between the University of Nebraska seeking the closing of Leighton from 33rd to 48th and a host of other interests advocating the opening of the same section.

Leighton is in the city's comprehensive city plan as a major arterial running from the northeast radial west of 33rd straight east to the city limits. The city owns the north half of a right-of-way for Leighton in the unopened section from 33rd to 48th.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Rees Wilkinson to create an improvement district in that section has been laid over by the City Council for further study.

Three University of Nebraska officials appeared Monday to emphasize the imprtance to the state institution of the abandonment of Leighton from 33rd to 48th. They were Business Manager John Selleck, Dean W. V. Lambert of the Agricultural College and Attorney Earl Cline.

'Of Utmost Importance'

This trio asserted that the closing was a matter of utmost importance. No question in the past 30 years, Cline said, has been more important to the University than this.

Now is the time, Cline said, for the Council to "dispel the often heard report in the State Legislature that the University does plenty for Lincoln but Lincoln does nothing for the University."

Not that the report is true, he said, but it is heard.

Dean Lambert said Leighton would separate the operations of the Agricultural College. The University, he said, now owns 40 acres of land north of Leighton between 33rd and 45th.

Land Acquisition

All the land from 33rd to 45th between Leighton and Baldwin will be acquired by either negotiation or condemnation, he said.

It was pointed out by Selleck that the land acquisition north of Leighton has been a long-standing University program.

The land is being used, said Dean Lambert, for growing of experimental grasses and legumes for the use of agriculure in the entire state.

A consolidation of the Ag College campus on the north and south sides of Leighton, Cline said, is vital to the research and teaching program of the University.

Opposition to the closing was expressed by a number of attorneys and others.

"Blight" The Area

Speaking for the Abel Investment Co. and the O. L. & B. Railroad, Attorney Lloyd Marti said the closing of Leighton would "blight" a large area to the north and east of the University property.

Leighton, he said, is the only major east-west arterial that possibly could be developed between Holdrege and Adams.

"The University," Marti said, "has a perfect right to buy land and use it as it pleases but when it asks to have a street closed which affects one whole area of the city and the major suburb of University Place, then that is another matter."

Leighton is a straight right-of-way, Marti pointed out, clear from 27th to one mile beyond 84th.

Waited 2 Generations

Attorney Richard Smith who owns property along 48th between Walker and Leighton told the Council that "University Place has waited for two generations for the opening of Leighton and it is now time it was done."

Attorney John Dudgeon pointed out for clients who own 11 lots in the area that the land affected by Leighton is choice industrial property. Such sites, he said, are not too common in Lincoln.

"Long A Dream"

A. Clifford Anderson, representing the University Place Businessmen's Association, said the opening of Leighton "has long been a dream of University Place."

Another University Place businessman, M. C. Mayo, also urged opening of Leighton.

The University was described as "arbitrary in their attitude" by Harvey Williams, owner of the Williams Nurseries, who also advocated the opening of Leighton.

A previous University suggestion to substitute Huntington in place of Leighton as an arterial was opposed by Dick Johnson, business manager of Nebraska Wesleyan University.

A second alternate proposed by the University of Nebraska was to use Baldwin from the west to 47th and then cut diagonally southeast to Leighton and on east.

However, opponents of the closing also opposed this alternate.

Sale Of Sewer Bonds Okayed

An ordinance authorizing the sale of $1.3 million in storm sewer bonds was among a total of 17 ordinances introduced for first reading to the City Council.

The bond ordinance was given three readings and final approval. It authorizes the sale of the bonds to the First Boston Corp. of Chicago who submitted a low bid of 2.49 per cent interest last week.

Other ordinances introduced:

Change in zoning from rural and public use to light industrial on the west side of 27th south of Salt Creek.
Annexation of a small area south of College View, including the intersection of 40th and Pioneers and lots near 56th and Spruce to permit creation of a paving district.
Change in zoning from multiple dwelling to I commercial on the south side of 10th at J.
Paving of streets in Fiene Heights, first addition.
Sewer in the area from 46th to 47th between Mohawk and A.
Paving of Walker, 60th to 63rd.
Sewer in 20th, Dudley to Holdrege.
Paving of Adams, 9th to 11th.
Paving of alley between O and P from 21st to 22nd.
Paving of 39th, W to X.
Vacation of Douglas, 72nd to 73rd.
Grading of 40th, South to near Sumner.
Sewer in Fiene Heights, first addition.
Water in Fiene Heights, first addition.
Plat of Hollingsworth Heights, being north of Van Dorn between 40th and 44th.

Indian Visitor Impressed By Lincoln, U.S.

People are "so friendly" in the United States.

Mrs. B. Tara Bai of New Delhi, India, in Lincoln to speak to a Monday noon meeting of the Red Cross at the YWCA, said that this was her main impression of America.

Traveling as a guest of the U.S. State Department, Mrs. Tara Bai, who is principal of Lady Irwin College in New Delhi, has previously spoken at the University of Iowa, Cornell University, and Pennsylvania State College.

Mrs. Tara Bai listed two developments in the United States which have impressed her.

Likes Home Ec

First is the development of home economics training. She has been pleased to learn that doctorates in home economics are offered in the United States.

(Mrs. Tara Bai is president of the National Home Economics Association in India).

The second development is what she calls the "dignity of labor" in the United States. "No one," she said, "minds any kind of job here."

In comparing India and the United States Mrs. Tara Bai said that the informality of both peoples was the chief sunilarity. Introductions are necessary before conversation in most other countries, she said, "but here, as in India, this formality has been done away with."

Lincoln Surprises

Mrs. Tara Bai was "surprised" at the size of Lincoln. She said that she had thought Lincoln was a "small college town."

From here she goes to Tennessee and Arkansas.

This was Mrs. Tara Bai's first trip to the midwest and her second visit to the United States.

She returns to India late in June.

McKay Resignation Doesn't End Giveaway Era, Says Harriman

. . . Demo Claims Ike Throttling West

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — The resignation of Douglas McKay as interior secretary "doesn't mean the era of the great giveaway is over," Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said Monday night.

In a speech to the Montana Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, Harriman said:

"It is President Eisenhower's policies that are throttling the growth of the West by abandoning great public projects. McKay was just his willing agent."

Harriman said full development of the West's resources is necessary to avoid a "stagnant economy and built-in unemployment."

"The West must play a major role in this expansion. That is why we can never settle for the small and timid plans of President Eisenhower for the development of this region," Harriman said.

New Vistas

"With all our capabilities and our boundless potentialities we need a new vision to inspire our national policy."

He said the West's great irrigation projects were developed under Democratic administration.

"The only new irrigation project Eisenhower has put under construction is the new sprinkling system at the Burning Tree Golf Course," Harriman said.

He said examples of Eisenhower's "giveaway" police were the Hell's Canyon and Dixon-Yates developments.

"These giveaways were all in line with Eisenhower's policies. They have been sugar-coated with the slogan of partnership, under which the big special interests get the sugar," he said.

Taxpayers' Case Goes To State High Court

The record of Adams County district court proceedings in a taxpayers' suit to test the legality of purchasing blanket bonds for county officials has been received by the State Supreme Court.

The Adams County Board is defendant in the action. The district court ruling held that elective county officials can be covered with a blanket bond.

400 Doctors Register For State Meeting

Some 400 Nebraska doctors were registering Monday for the 88th annual session of the Nebraska State Medical Association which officially gets underway Tuesday.

Total registration is to include some 400 auxiliary members and technical associates.

Pre-session activities Monday included a golf tournament and trap shoot.

The official session will be opened Tuesday morning by Dr. William E. Wright, association president.

In the afternoon, Dr. James M. Woodward of Lincoln will be installed as president for 1956-57. He is presently president-elect.

Principal speakers Tuesday will include Dr. James E. Fitzgerald of Chicago, Ill., Dr. G. Keith Folger of Cleveland, O., Dr. Oscar D. Ratnoff, also of Cleveland, and Dr. Jacques P. Gray of Detroit, Mich.

The House Delegates and Board of Councilors will hold three sessions during the convention and the Board of Trustees meets Wednesday.

The Auxiliary will hold its annual business meeting Tuesday and install new officers. Mrs. Lynn E. Sharrar is president.

Cement Freight Rate Cut Given RR Board OK

The State Railway Commission Monday reported action which will mean a reduction in freight rates on cement to Nebraska points to the west of a line through O'Neill and Beatrice.

The rate now will be uniform to the entire state and will be on a mileage basis, a spokesman said.

The north - south line dividing the state into two zones was set up by the Interstate Commerce Commission many years ago.

The commission also announced authority has been given to the Railway Express Agency to increase its first and second class charges seven per cent on May 21.

Other action:

Union Pacific Railroad granted authority to discontinue agency service at Roscoe, Neb.

Applications of William A. McNeel and Sons, Oshkosh, and T. I. Dutch and Elmer J. Mecke of Ogallala, to operate pipelines in Garden and Keith Counties were denied.

School Land Board Plans To Invest $629,000 In Bonds

The Board of Educational Lands and Funds Monday agreed to invest $629,000 of its funds.

This will consist of $45,000 in U.S. bonds bearing 3.10 per cent interest, $543,000 of the same investment bearing 3.07 per cent interest and $50,000 in Columbus school bonds bearing 3.20 per cent interest.

Chairman Tom Coffey said the Columbus bonds were "a token purchase" which did not indicate any serious intention of departing from the general policy of buying only government securities.

He said the board was offered approximately a million dollars worth of school bonds.

Losses to the board through the purchase of bonds of cities and irrigation districts caused the Legislature to make a special appropriation to return the money to the school fund.

The board was also offered Deshler light plant revenue bonds but they were ruled "ineligible" because no governmental agency was guaranteeing them. Coffey said the only pledge was revenue from the plant.

Coffey, who has been named state purchasing agent effective June 1, did not announce his resignation from the board at the Monday meeting but did say he would attend the May 28 meeting.

Stuart Hits Grand-Slammer
Chiefs Explode In 9th, Win 12-6

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — The Albuquerque Dukes' pitching staff collapsed completely in the ninth inning Monday night as league-leading Lincoln scored seven runs on four walks, an error and three hits, including Dick Stuart's grand slam home run to take a 12-6 victory.

The Chiefs now move into Amarillo to open a series with the skidding Gold Sox. Andy Bush (3-0), the ex-Chief hurler, is slated to pitch for the Gold Sox against Lincoln's Ben Daniels (2-1).

The Dukes had held a 6-5 margin going into the ninth when reliefer George Zackey walked the first two men and was relieved by Ernie Bartolomei who walked the only man he faced. The fourth consecutive walk, this one off Bud Bauhofer, brought in the tying run.

Marcus Cobos then hit a grounder to short which was ruled a fielders choice when no out was made and a run scored. Stuart then slammed his drive 380 feet over the left-field barrier.

Lincoln jumped off to three runs in the first inning, using two walks and a pair of singles for the runs. An unearned run in the fourth, scored on Swarts' triple and an error on the play, gave the Chiefs a 4-1 margin.

A four-run sixth inning, featured by Len Van De Hey's triple, his third hit of a perfect 5-for-5 night, put the Dukes in the lead for the first time at 5-4.

Three singles and a walk by Duke starter Jack Martin in the seventh brought Zackey to the scene, although a run had not scored because Martin had picked Frank Rice off first base.

Before throwing a pitch, Zackey balked in the tying run, but got out of the inning without further damage.

Another hit by Van De Hey, a sacrifice and Chuck Lundgren's single scored the final Duke run in the seventh, giving them a 6-5 lead which held until the disastrous ninth.

For Dick Drilling it was victory number two in two nights, bringing his record to 3-1. Zackey took a second loss in as many nights, and his fourth without a win.

Russians To Face Rocca, Orton At Lincoln Arena

The newest sensation of the professional wrestling world—The Russians—are coming to Lincoln.

Promoter Adam Krieger has announced the appearance of Ivan and Karol Kalmikoff, the brothers who are billed as "The Russians." The Russian tag-team champions will tangle with Argentina Rocca, the acrobatic South American Champion, and Kansas City mean boy Bob Orton next Tuesday, May 22, at the Fairgrounds Arena. The program will start at 8:30 p.m.

Prof. Krieger said "It took a long time to get The Russians for Lincoln. This will be the first time they have ever faced Rocca."

Two more bouts will be announced later. Krieger said two girls would be on the card.

Williamson also announced that the Sectional PGA qualifying round will be held at Beatrice May 21.

Mangrum In KC Open

KANSAS CITY, Kans. (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, a storied veteran of golf's tournament circuit, will try to continue his comeback to the front rank of the nation's touring professionals in the $22,000 Kansas City Open here this week.

Laid up by injuries and an illness for most of 1955, Mangrum started his comeback by winning the Los Angeles Open with a record 272 for the 72 holes earlier this year.

The colorful 41-year-old shotmaster is certain to draw a large share of the gallery when he tees off Thursday in Kansas City's big show.

Speedway Record Of 144 MPH Lasts Only 30 Minutes

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Bettenhausen, in his 19th season at the Indianapolis Speedway, drove one lap timed electronically at 144.951 m.p.h. Monday to erase an unofficial track record set just 30 minutes before by another veteran, Sam Hanks.

Bettenhausen, piloting a Belanger entry, was just nine-hundredths of a second from a 145 m.p.h. lap and 2:09 seconds from a 150 m.p.h. on the 2½-mile track.

Observers reported that Hanks, clocked at 144.346 m.p.h., had a smoother ride than his Tinley Park, Ill., rival.

Bettenhausen, who predicted "someone will have a 146 m.p.h. lap during Saturday's qualification," said after Monday's ride:

"I could drive all day like that if the tires would hold up."

Hanks, who is from Pacific Palisades, Calif., had a similar report:

"Sure, you work hard when you go that fast, but I felt comfortable all the way."

Wingate To Head Prairie Bowman

Rev. Roy Wingate of Schuyler has been re-elected president of the Nebraska Prairie Bowman Club. Vice-presidents elected are George Hathaway, Union (hunt); Ken McDonald, Omaha (target); and Bob Dukes; Nebraska City (field).

Ruth Ellis of Lincoln was re-elected secretary, and Jim Lund of Lincoln was re-elected treasurer.

Winners of the big-game target shoot:

Mens—Won by Bob Dukes, Nebraska City; 2—Mac Forbis, Central City, 3—Ernie Wolf, Omaha.
Womens—Won by Lenore Bailey, Lincoln; 2—Allene Whitson, Lincoln; 3—Alice Betke, Hastings.
Junior—Won by Kenneth Kindall, Lincoln. 2—Jim McNamara, Omaha. 3—Robert Petersen, Tilden.

Weygandt's Homers Lead Topeka Win

AMARILLO (AP) —Al Weygandt, Topeka's first baseman, continued his amazing home run display here Monday night as he hit three more to lead the Topeka Hawks to an 11-3 victory over the Amarillo Gold Sox before 1,086 fans. The win gave Topeka a sweep of the three games and sent Amarillo down to its fifth straight loss.

Weygandt's three home runs brought more Western League records to his big, swinging bat. He broke the record for most home runs in three successive games and he already has bettered the individual home run marks for the most homers in four and five successive games.

Baltimore Takes Gamble On Hurler's Sore Arm

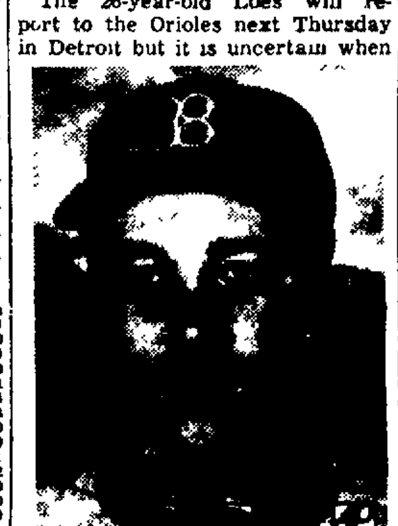
By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP) — Billy Loes, Brooklyn Dodgers' problem child, was sold unconditionally to the Baltimore Orioles Monday—lame arm and all—for an estimated $20,000.

In announcing the transaction, news of which had leaked out several days ago, Dodger publicist Arthur (Red) Patterson said the Orioles had been informed of the condition of Loes' arm and had decided to gamble on it.

Baltimore also purchased left-hander Johnny Schmitz from Boston and dropped two right handed pitchers, Werner (Babe) Birrer and Mel Held.

The 26-year-old Loes will report to the Orioles next Thursday in Detroit but it is uncertain when he'll be able to pitch. The eccentric righthander has been bothered by a sore shoulder muscle, diagnosed as tendonitis.



BILLY LOES

Only One Appearance

He has made only one appearance this season, starting against Pittsburgh, on Sunday, April 29. The Pirates knocked him out of the box in the second inning, after he had been rapped for five hits and six runs.

Loes reported after the game that his arm didn't hurt when he threw fast balls but he felt sharp pains whenever he tried to throw a curve. Since then he has confined his activities to pitching batting practice and observers said he "didn't have a thing."

In order to sell Loes to the rival American League, the Dodgers first had to get waivers from every club in the National. This had been done two weeks ago, it was learned. When the news leaked out last week that the Dodgers were contemplating selling Loes to Baltimore, Brooklyn Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi denied it.

"No Thought" Of Dealing

"There is no thought at this time of dealing Loes," he said then. "We wouldn't deal him if his arm was right and we couldn't deal him if his arm weren't."

It is obvious now that Bavasi was wrong. Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles apparently is willing to pay for a lame-armed pitcher hoping Loes' arm can be healed either by surgery, rest or regular work.

There is no doubt that Loes is a fine pitcher when he is right. The 6-1, 165-pounder from Long Island City, N.Y., has been a winning pitcher for the Dodgers in each of his four seasons with the club.

In his first year with Brooklyn, 1952, he won 13 and lost eight. Then came 14-8, 13-5 and 10-4 seasons.

Smith's Homer Gives Indians League Lead

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Smith clubbed a home run over the left-field fence in the ninth inning Monday night to give the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees and boost them into the American League lead.

Bob Lemon hurled a three-hitter at the Yanks for his fifth straight victory, all completely pitched. He now holds a lifetime record of 26-25 against New York, and the only other hurlers able to gain the upper hand over the Bombers in a comparable period are Boston's Mel Parnell and Detroit's Steve Gromek.

Smith was the first Indian up in the ninth, and the home run, his fifth of the season, broke a 2-2 tie that had existed from the fourth inning. It sent tall Johnny Kucks to his second defeat against three victories.

The game was the day's only major league contest, and it cost the Yanks the league lead they had held since May 3. They now trail Cleveland by 10 percentage points, .625 to .615.

Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle hit consecutive home runs off Lemon in the fourth for the only Yankee runs the veteran right-hander allowed. The other hit by the visitors was a single by Elston Howard in the fifth inning.

Smith's home run drew wild cheers from the crowd of 18,950. Until the starting lineups were announced, there was some doubt that Smith would be able to play. He has been troubled by a sore leg.

Infielders In Trade

The Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals Monday swapped utility infielders. Solly Hemus (left) went to Philadelphia in exchange for Bobby Morgan (right). It was a straight player swap with no cash involved. Hemus, 32, has been used mainly as a pinch-hitter this season, going hitless in four official times at bat. Morgan, 29, was hitting .200 with Philadelphia. (AP Wirephoto.)

Cardinals Finish Deal; Swap Hemus For Phillies' Morgan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bobby Morgan was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for Solly Hemus Monday by the Philadelphia Phillies.

The swap of utility infielders completed a deal engineered last week by General Managers Frank Lane of St. Louis and Roy Hamey of Philadelphia which began with the announcement Friday of a trade involving five pitchers.

Herman Wehmeier and Murry Dickson of the Phillies went to St. Louis for Harvey Haddix, Stu Miller and Ben Flowers. Actually Morgan and Hemus were to have been included in the announcement but a technacality held it up until Monday.

Hamey explained that Hemus had been placed on the waiver list by St. Louis and the deal could not be completed until the Waivers expired.

The Phillies' general manager also announced that Bob Ross, a left-handed pitcher purchased conditionally from Chattanooga had been returned to the Southern Assn. team, and Wally Westlake, veteran outfielder, had been given his unconditional release.

Ross appeared in two games, worked 2⅓ innings, striking out three, allowing one hit, one earned run and walking one. Westlake appeared as a pinch hitter four times without a hit. The Phillies now have 27 players, two over the limit.

To Phillies From Brooklyn

Morgan came to the Phillies in March, 1954, from Brooklyn for $50,000 and infielder Dick Young. He has played third base, shortstop and second base as well as serving as a pinch hitter. This year he has five hits for 25 at bats, an average of .200.

Hemus, a pepper pot, also has played most of the infield positions for the Cardinals. This year the play of rookie Don Blasingame at shortstop and the success of Ken Boyer at third base had made a bench warmer of Hemus. His best season was in 1954 when he hit .304.

The 32-year-old Hemus may be positioned at second base for the Phillies. Ted Kazanski, the good-field-no-hit rookie has been holding down second most of the season, but the club isn't satisfied with his bat work.

Husker Golfers Blank Creighton

The University of Nebraska golf team won its last dual match of the season, defeating Creighton U., 18-0, Monday afternoon.

The Huskers will compete in the Big 7 championships Friday and Saturday. Nels Jensen, Jack Moore and Warren Christenson have clinched spots on the team, with the other two positions to be decided this week by a 36-hole playoff among squad members.

Results:

Jensen (N) 79, defeated Tom Crowell, 93, 3-0.
Moore (N) 78, defeated Bob Kurata, 83, 3-0.
Christenson (N) 76, defeated Mark Ryon, 84, 3-0.
John Butterfield (N) 84, defeated Dan Simons, 91, 3-0.
Jensen and Moore (N) defeated Crowell and Kurata, 3-0.

Bottorff Hurls Huskers Past Buffs, 6-1

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Southpaw Roger Bottorff pitched the Nebraska Cornhuskers to a 6-1 victory over the Colorado Buffaloes Monday afternoon at the NU diamond.

The Huskers now have a 4-3 Big Seven record, with a second game with the Buffs on tap Tuesday and a series with Missouri slated for Friday and Saturday.

It was a tight contest between Bottorff and Colorado pitcher Harold Sprehe until the Cornhuskers gained a pair of unearned runs in the sixth.

Nebraska tallied once in the first on Don Brown's double and a single by Larry Lewis and added another in the second when Gene Torczon tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly.

The only run off Bottorff came in the third when Buff centerfielder Bernie Mollicone hit a solo home run.

From that point on Bottorff was tough in the clinches, registering crucial strikeouts when the visitors threatened. The Lincoln lefty allowed only seven hits, while walking three and fanning six.

A hit batsman, a single and a sacrifice put Huskers in scoring position in the sixth before Colorado First Baseman Bruce Klaas bobbled an inning-ending grounder, letting two runs score.

Sprehe hit the leadoff batter again in the seventh and Lewis singled before Torczon slashed a two-out double to drive in the final Husker runs.

The Cornhuskers collected 12 hits off Sprehe, including four extra base raps. Torczon got two-for-three, while Gary Reimers, Coufal, Brown, Lewis and Willie Greenlaw were two-for-four.

Husker Coach Tony Sharpe has tabbed another Lincoln lefty, Dick Geier, to hurl the series finale Tuesday. Colorado will throw Righthander Chris Schmidt. Game time is 3 p.m.

Kansas Favored To Win 10th Straight Big 7 Track Crown

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) —The University of Kansas Jayhawks, boasting at least three Olympic prospects, are set to capture their 10th straight Big 7 Conference track and field championship here Friday and Saturday.

The string includes both indoor and outdoor meets.

Coach Bill Easton's Jayhawks are expecetd to start breaking records in the 28th annual meeting beginning with the preliminaries Friday. They'll shoot with Bill Nieder, one of two men in the world to beat 60 feet with the 16-pound shot; Al Oerter, husky sophomore from New York City, in the discus, and Les Bitner, in the javelin.

Still another Olympic - minded Jayhawker — sophomore Kent Floerke, who hopes to make the trip to Australia on his ability as a hop-step-jumper—will be after a medal in the broad jump.

Olympic Hurdle Candidate

The Kansas State Wildcats are expected to provide one of the meet's brighter stars in sophomore Gene O'Connor, who will be trying for ribbons in both the high and low hurdles. O'Connor is another prime Olympic candidate. His 52.2 seconds in the 400-meter hurdles is the best clocking for that event in the nation this year.

Kansas won the meet last spring with a total of 173 points. Oklahoma was second but well off the winning pace with 104 and Missouri third with 102. Competition for the runner-up position should again be keen with Kansas State joining Oklahoma and Missouri.

Colorado, Iowa State and Nebraska each have individual stars to offer but lack squad balance necessary for a championship.

Conference championships in tennis and golf are also scheduled here Friday and Saturday.

Boys Town Nips Rockets

BOYS TOWN — Boys Town scored three unearned runs to beat Northeast 3-2 and ruin sophomore Jan Wall's pitching for the Rockets here Monday.

Wall gave Boys Town only two hits and walked two in the sixth.

Northeast rallied with a run in the sixth and scored one more in the seventh but Dan Crow relieved Boys Town starter Delton Straumann with two out and got Clair Fredstrom to bounce out.

Fredstrom's single, an infield out and Jack Fagler's base hit accounted for Northeast's run in the sixth. Ron Long singled to score Kermit Mobley with the other run in the seventh.

The loss was the fourth for Northeast in nine games and the third in a row.

Lollar Takes Minoso's Role As Sox Go-Go Guy

DETROIT (AP) — Now they're saying "As Sherm Lollar goes, so go the White Sox."

For several seasons it has been Minnie Minoso in the role of the Chicago club's make - or - break guy.

But when the 31-year-old Lollar caught fire a few games back, so did Marty Marion's White Sox. The Arkansas-born catcher has hiked his average from .231 to .367 in 5 games and has 13 hits, including 4 doubles and a pair of home runs, in his last 17 times at bat.

Minoso, the fleet left fielder, regained his batting punch at about the same time and has upped his batting average from .207 to .324 in the last 10 games.

Lollar added a double, a single and a sacrifce fly as the White Sox thumped the Detroit Tigers 8-1 for a sweep of their three-game series at Briggs Stadium. Minoso also had a double and a single and drove home a run while scoring a pair himself. Lollar drove in three runs.

When the Chicago club came to town, its record was seven wins and eight defeats. The White Sox went back to Chicago for a home stay with a mark of 10 wins and 8 losses, and were in third place just a shade behind the Cleveland Indians.

43 Hits In 3 Games

The White Sox turned the Tiger pitching into a feast, collecting 43 hits in the three-game set.

Marion was jubilant as the Sox headed back to Comiskey Park.

"They look like a new team," said the Sox manager. "It's amazing what a few base hits will do for you."

Billy Pierce, though in trouble most of the way, registered his fourth win against the Tigers scattering 10 hits on the way to the triumph. The Sox backed him with a 14-hit attack that included three singles by Jim Rivera, a home run and a single by Nellie Fox, two singles by George Kell and the big hitting of Lollar and Minoso.

Tony Says Sugar Ray All The Way

Two-Ton Tony Galento, one-time terror of the heavyweight boxing division, squares off with Sugar Ray Robinson at Robinson's San Jacinto, Calif. training camp. Galento watched Robinson in a fast workout and came up with the prediction that Sugar Ray will successfully defend his middleweight championship against Carl (Bobo) Olson in Los Angeles Friday night. Clay Center's Buchtel Wins NU Pentathlon

Duane Buchtel of Clay Center won the individual pentathlon crown and Blair took the grand championship team award in the annual home course competition sponsored by the University of Nebraska.

Frank Sevigne, Nebraska track coach, announced the winners Monday.

Buchtel won the individual crown with a 5-3 high jump, 19-8 broad jump, a :15.7 high hurdle mark, 53-1 in the shot and 155-5 in the discus.

Duane was fourth in the same competition a year ago.

Blair won the team trophy with Jerry McCoy, Albert Vitols, Marven Wetchensky and David Svengaard. The Blair team points totaled 16,766.

Alliance, for the second straight year, was the Class A winner.

A total of 34 team entries were received this year as against 21 a year ago. Several other schools entered individual performers but did not compete for the team trophies.

Other class winners were Wymore in Class C and Alexandria in Class D.

Harvey Kuenn's Drafting Doubtful

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A report on the Army physical examination taken Friday by Detroit Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn was forwarded to Washington Monday with indications he may have been rejected or deferred for the third time.

Kuenn twice previously was turned down for military service because of knee injuries. In addition to the regular examination by a medical officer, Kuenn was examined by a civilian orthopedic specialist.

The Armed Forces Induction Center declined Monday to disclose the result of the examination or the nature of the report to the surgeon general in Washington. But it had indicated Friday that if Kuenn was declared acceptable, his local draft board would be notified immediately but that if rejection or deferment were recommended the decision would be made by the surgeon general.

Chicago Cubs Drop 2; Down To 25 Players

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Gale Wade and catcher Elvin Tappe remained in Chicago Monday to await reassignment to minor league clubs as the Cubs departed on a 13-game road trip.

The Cubs squad now is made up of the legal limit of 25 players.

Wade and Tappe will meet with Wid Matthews, personnel director, today for assignment.

Nix On April Night Games Says Yawkey

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey was quoted Monday as saying he plans to propose a ban on night games in the month of April at the next meeting of the major league club owners.

Yawkey was quoted by Boston Globe baseball writer Hy Hurwitz as saying in Detroit "It's bad enough to play in the daytime in April, let alone playing in the evening."

"It isn't fair to the fans, players or officials to be playing under the unfavorable conditions such as exist generally during the month of April," Yawkey said.

He added:

"The fans as well as the players are exposed to illness playing in freezing weather. We certainly should consider the fans. They are the ones who pay the freight."

Yawkey, who is vice president of the American League and a member of baseball's Executive Council, said he was not "trying to tell anyone just how he is to run his own ball club."

Jensby Pitches Perfect Game

UTICA — Darrell Jensby of Ruskin pitched a perfect no-hit game Monday as his team beat Raymond, 4-0, in the finals of the Class C district baseball tournament here.

Jensby faced only 21 men, the minimum for seven innings, and struck out 15. His mound opponent, Hardesty, fanned 10 and gave only two hits.

Soos Buy Western League Veteran

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — Acquisition of two players and the release of two others was announced Monday night by Adam Pratt, Sioux City Soos president.

The Soos bought first baseman Ken Landenberger, a Western League veteran, from Nashville of the Class AA Southern Association, and obtained lefthanded pitcher Hiram Gaston on option from Omaha of the American Association.

Released were first baseman Dick Barnhart to Fresno of the Class C California League, and righthanded pitcher Basil Mitchell. Mitchell is awaiting reassignment.

Despite 6-9 Leap, Russell Still Plans To Quit Track

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Amid speculation that he could become the first high jumper to clear 7 feet, towering Bill Russell of the University of San Francisco said Monday he still plans to compete in only one more meet.

The 6-foot 9¾ All-America center of the national champion USF basketball team said his performance at the West Coast Relays in Fresno hadn't changed his plans. He did admit the 6-9¼ jump Saturday pleased him. Russell tied for first with Charley Dumas of Compton, Calif.

"I'm just jumping for kicks," Russell said in an interview. There will be just one more meet, at Stockton on June 2."

Unless someone convinces him otherwise between now and mid-June that appeared to be it. Russell accompanies the NCAA champion USF cage team on a South American tour starting from here on June 15. The NCAA championships—the first qualifying meet for the Olympic trials—start that day.

Also Russell already is a member of the Olympic basketball squad. He said he wouldn't want to take the place of some other athlete in the high jump.

Errors Hurt Plainsmen

OMAHA — First-inning errors hurt Nebraska Wesleyan and got Omaha University started on the way to a 7-5 win over the Plainsmen here Monday.

Wesleyan threatened in the ninth inning, scoring three times. The Plainsmen had two on in the ninth when Dick Evenson flied out to end the game.

Lowell Johnson gave up nine hits and his Plainsmen teammates combed Stan Schaetzle of Omaha for the same number.

Omaha's attack was sparked by John Welch's home run.

Wesleyan is host to Creighton U. Wednesday in an important Midwest Baseball League game. Friday and Saturday the Plainsmen play William Jewell in Kansas City, and will watch the Kansas City Athletics play the Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Knicks Sign Bergen

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers announced the signing of Gary Bergen, a rookie from the University of Utah, to a National Basketball Assn. contract. He is the first of the Knicks' 14 collegiate draftees to accept terms.

Bergen, from Independence, Mo., stands 6-8, weighs 212 pounds and is 22 years old. He was a leading rebounder and scorer in the Skyline Conference.

Calhoun Floors Sandy In First

NEW YORK (AP)—Undefeated Herman Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., stopped Randy Sandy in 2:46 of the first round by flooring the lanky New Yorker three times Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena. It was Calhoun's 21st straight victory. Calhoun weighed 160½, Sandy 155½.

Referee Ray Miller halted the telecast feature after Sandy went down for the third time from a right-hand blow to the head. Miller immediately ended the scrap under the New York rule which calls for stopping a fight when a boxer is knocked down three times in one round.

Stock Mart Dives Following News

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nosed down abruptly Monday in a burst of selling that coincided with the Russian announcement of a cut in military forces.

The drop wiped out an estimated 2½ billion dollars from the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, as judged by the decline of $2.20 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

Losses were $1 to $5. All divisions were caught in the selling.

Brokers pointed out that the market has been going through a reaction phase ever since it reached a record high level April 6. That high peak was attained in a strong rally that started in mid-February.

During the reaction, the market has been nervous and irregular with trading on a selective basis. Last Thursday there was a severe drop that followed an announcement of a cut in production by General Motors. Monday the drop followed the Russian announcement.

The industrial component of the average was off $2.70, railroads were down $2.30, and the utilities were off 20 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,440,000 shares compared with 2,450,000 Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 1,060,000 shares against 950,000 Friday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) —Rails and utilities moved up while industrials and quality investment issues eased in a narrowly mixed Bond Market Monday. Volume rose to $4,710,000 par value on the big board from $4,050,000 last Friday.

U. S. Treasury bonds were virtually unchanged in quiet trading in the over-the-counter market. The 2½s of 1963, the Victory 2½s of December, 1972-67 and the 40-year 3s were steady at 96 6/32, 94 4/32, and 98 28/32 bid, respectively. The 30-year 3¼s gained 2/32 at 103 20/32 bid.

Among the rails, Florida East Coast 5s added 1 at 133¾; Union Pacific 2½s moved up ¾ at 85¼. Missouri Pacific 5s were unchanged at 62¾, but the 4¾s and 4½s lost as much as ⅞.

W. R. Grace 3½s, the day's most actively traded issues, gained 1 at 111½.

Among utilities, Consolidated Edison 3⅝s of 1985 and Ohio Edison 3s moved up 1 each at 100¾ and 95, respectively.

Grains Wind Up On Erratic Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains wound up with a highly erratic trend after displaying early firmness on the Board of Trade Monday.

Greatest strength appeared in old crop soybeans. At one time May and July beans had gains of around 8 cents. But this was cut sharply before the final gong.

Chief weakness appeared in May wheat: It suffered from light but steady liquidation and finished 5⅝c lower. New crop wheat eased, as did rye. But oats and old crop corn firmed.

Wheat closed ⅝c to 5⅝c lower, corn ¾ lower to 1 cent higher, oats ¼c to ½c higher; rye 1½c to 2¼c lower, soybeans 1⅝c lower to 3½c higher and lard 10 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The early strength in old crop soybeans reflected higher prices for soybean oil and soybean meal in the cash market. Oil sold at 15⅝ to 15¾ cents a pound up ⅜ to ½ cent, while meal was $62.00@62.50 a ton, up $2.00 to $2.50 and at a high since last September.

George Accepts Ike Offer

Demo Senator To Be NATO Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen George (D-Ga) Monday night accepted President Eisenhower's invitation to serve as his personal representative in development of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into something more than a military unit.

The White House announced George's acceptance after the 78 year-old chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had conferred with the President for an hour. George announced last week that he will not seek renomination.

Eisenhower promptly offered him a post as his personal representative, with the rank of ambassador, in NATO.

The White House announcement said George told Eisenhower Monday night that he plans "to retain his present post in the Senate for the time being, but would be available after adjournment of the Senate to perform any duty consistent with his senatorial responsibility that might be requested by the President."

Congress hopes to adjourn by mid-July.

The White House said that meanwhile George, in co-operation with Secretary of State Dulles, "will study the problem of the development of the NATO concept and consult with the foreign ministers of Canada, Italy and Norway who were designated by the NATO council to study the problem with the governments involved."

George met with Eisenhower in the President's White House living quarters. The President relayed announcement of George's acceptance to newsmen when their meeting ended.

Blaze Doused

Firemen were called to 2339 C Monday night to douse a garage fire. Damage was reported slight. The garage is owned by John Wolf of the same address.

Council Backs Lincoln Bus Fare Jump

The City Council has gone on record in favor of the proposed bus fare increase to be heard before the State Railway Commission June 6

The unanimous Council action was taken following a favorable report on the increase by Jo Campbell chairman of the city's Advisory Bus Committee

In view of the experience of other cities and the constantly declining passenger revenue of Lincoln City Lines Campbell said, the committee feels there is no choice but to approve the higher fare

The proposed change would hike fares from two tokens for 25 cents to four tokens for 55 cents Children's fares would go from two tokens for 15 cents to 10 cents straight

Campbell said the only regret the committee had was that the increase was not based on better service The company has said it needs the higher fare just to maintain existing service, Campbell said

Campbell's group is to continue its work in an effort to seek ways of maintaining a transportation system and improving service

Complete cooperation of the company, he said, has been promised by its officials.

3 WHITES CHARGED WITH RAPE

. . . In Mississippi

MAGNOLIA, Miss (AP) — Four white men were charged Monday with the kidnaping a 16-year-old Negro girl and taking her to a remote section of a swamp on the Mississippi-Louisiana line where three of them raped her at gunpoint

The bizarre story unfolded after the arrest of Ernest Dillon, 29, of McComb, Olen Duncan, 21, and Duroa Duncan, a cousin both of Tylertown

All three were formally charged with kidnaping and rape. The fourth man, Ollie Dillon, 44, of Tylertown, a brother of Ernest, was charged with kidnaping.

Stranger

The girl was unknown to any of the men, authorities said. The men had been together Saturday night and decided "to look for some women," officers said.

They drove to the house of a Negro man and asked him where they could find a Negro girl

Officers said the frightened Negro pointed to a house where a woman and her daughter lived The men kicked the door in and took the girl

The mother notified a sheriff who aroused a deputy at 5 30 a m. and they organized a search.

While the search was being organized, the girl managed to get hold of the shotgun and hit one of the men over the head and fled.

Dead Nominee Still Figures In Election

. . . As Koreans Vote

SEOUL Korea (Tuesday) (AP) — A dead man's name and fears of violence hung over South Korea as the republic's nine million voters chose a president today

Syngman Rhee, 81, was confident of winning a third term by a lopsided margin over his only official opponent, Cho Bong Am, an ex Communist trained in Moscow

Observers predicted 85 to 90 per cent of the eligible voters will cast ballots and that unofficial results will be known within two days

Diehard Democrats urged followers of the late P H Shinicky to vote for him in protest against the Rhee administration But the votes for Shinicky who died on a campaign trip, will be invalid

Cho 59 who broke with the Communists in 1946 and now carries the progressive party's banner has been reported in hiding because he fears assassination

He served for a short time as agriculture minister in Rhee's cabinet and twice was elected vice chairman of the National Assembly.

Council Considers Regulating Truck Weight On Streets

The City Council is considering the possibility of legislation governing the weight of trucks to be allowed to travel city treets

City Coordinator James Mallon told the Council that some new type of concrete trucks now haul 14 tons of concrete per load. Examples of other heavy truck loads such as sod trucks were also cited.

Council members asked the question of what such trucks did to city streets.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson is to make a study of the problem and report back to the Council.

21st St. 'Jog' Removal To Get Further Study

The City Council has taken under advisement a plan for elimination of the jog in 21st at O

Supreme Court Stands Pat On Ruling To End Sedition Law Enforcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, in the face of widespread protest, refused Monday to reconsider its April 2 decision knocking out enforcement of state sedition laws.

Thirty-five states, Alaska and Allegheny County, Pa., had asked the court to reconsider and reverse itself.

In refusing to do this, the court put it up to Congress whether states, as well as the federal government, are to have the power to prosecute fore sedition. Bills to nullify the effect of the April 2 decision and give the states this power are pending in both houses of Congress.

Dividing 6-3 the court held last month that state sedition laws have been superseded by the 1940 Smith Act and subsequent federal laws.

Encroachment Charged

This brought cries of federal "encroachment" from some state attorneys general along with demands for legislation "to preserve states' rights."

A national Assn. of Attorneys General, through its subversive activities and executive committees, adopted resolutions calling for amending the Smith Act to give the states coequal authority under it.

The April 2 decision threw out the conviction of Communist Leader Steven Nelson under Pennsylvania's sedition law. Nelson also was convicted under the Smith Act. His appeal in that case is pending before the Supreme Court.

Forty - two states have some form of laws against sedition. So have Alaska, Hawaii and Guam.

Other Actions

1. Refused to review a decision of the U. S. Court of Appeals in Philadelphia which was in favor of Albert Anastasia, reputed head of the old Brooklyn Murder, Inc. mob.

U. S. Dist. Judge William F. Smith of Newark, N. J., ruled Anastasia had fraudulently attained his certificate of naturalization, but the appellate court reversed him. The government has been seeking to deport Anastasia to his native Italy. He was naturalized in 1943 under a special procedure available to members of the armed forces.

2. Declined to rule on a University of Alabama challenge of an order requiring it to admit Autherine J. Lucy and other qualified Negroes as students.

3. Refused to consider a request by four Maryland farmers that agriculture agents seeking to determine the acreage they planted to wheat be barred from their farms.

Lower federal courts ordered the farmers to permit inspection of their wheat fields on the ground it was a necessary part of the federal crop control program.

Shrine Officers To Visit Here

GEORGE M. SAUNDERS

G. E. STRINGFELLOW

Two imperial officers of the Shrine will be in Lincoln Friday to take part in the spring ceremonial of Sesostris Temple which is being staged in honor of Dr. Clayton F. Andrews, of Lincoln, who is imperial high priest of the Imperial Council of the Shrine. They are George E. Stringfellow of West Orange, N.J., imperial assistant rabban and George M. Saunders of Kansas City, Mo imperial recorder.

Stringfellow will become imperial potentate in 1958 and Dr. Andrews will move up to Shrinedom's highest office the following year. Stringfellow is a director and vice-president of the Thomas A. Edison Co. Ind., and a director of Thomas Edison of Canada, Ltd.

A class of 125 candidates will be initiated at the ceremonial.

Nebraska Council For Better Education Hears Six-Point Legislative Program

Ways to improve Nebraska's schools and solve their problems were discussed at the second quarterly meeting of the Nebraska Council for Better Education Monday.

Donald F. Kline, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, offered a six-point legislative program to improve Nebraska's school system.

The chief need, he said, is to broaden the tax base in Nebraska. This would include levying a sales tax and an income tax.

Kline called "almost criminal" the fact that last year in Nebraska 12.8 per cent of new high school teachers did not have college preparation.

Yet without more money, he said, Nebraska's school system will continue to suffer from such inadequacies.

The other five points of the Association's program are:

(1) Reorganization of school districts.

(2) Careful management of school lands.

(3) Increase in teacher certification standards.

(4) Universal free high school education.

(5) Protection of teacher retirement program and social security coverage.

Also speaking at the meeting were Dr. Norman F. Thorpe, president of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education, and Mrs. Frances Beechner of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Hazel Abel, former United States Senator and the chairman of the Nebraska Committee for Youth, and Mrs. Grace Barmore, past-president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, also appeared on the program.

Sonja Divorced

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Winthrop Gardiner Jr., Palm Beach socialite, was granted a divorce from ice skating star Sonja Henie.

Gardiner sued for divorce in Circuit Court April 6, charging desertion and mental cruelty. He said he and Sonja, who were wed Dec. 15, 1949, had only two weeks alone together in more than six years of marriage.
